Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

And then some thoughtful soul left a dog biscuit on my desk, which could have been actual or contemplative. As the case now stands it is only defense material, because in these days of pumping and dust storms, just how long one is going to eat remains problematical. As storage, dog biscuits have their place, but in a refined menu which appeals to epicurean discrimination, well, now I ask you, whatnel would you do with a dog biscuit?

For the candidates' gallery two more aspiring citizens make contributions. One from "Terry" Stephenson and another from Burr A. Brown. The former wants to continue to act as county treasurer, and Brown aspires to the state assembly. Both candidate cards have been properly posted in the Hall of Fame.

I am now convinced that "Cora" is traveling under an alias. My first "wish you were here" card signed "Cora," now arrives signed "Marion" and "Suzie." All from the Pacific northwest. Well, if they are individual, I'm on the way to get myself a harem. But if one and the same, life moves on in the even tenor of its way, but I want it distinctly understood I am not a tenor.

Hale Barker can do his own barking for a whole year. If he does the Breakfast club will be the shideshow. Hale was elected president Thursday morning. The club should have plenty of music for the Barker term, inasmuch as he is in the music business. He has all kinds of instruments. All he needs now is to get someone to play them. Hale succeeds Hunter Leach, whose outstanding contribution to the community as president of the club was the dedication of the Broadway pavement, when about 6000 people took part. Hunter never starts anything he cannot finish.

If you want a carpenter don't use this one. House needed a new roof. Still does. This embryonic mechanic consumed a full day and three shingles, two of which he put on upside down. He'd have been all right if he had been working on one of those inverted eaves. As is, he makes a good rancher.

The Tustin barbecue, which has become famous and entirely satisfactory to the participants, held one of its informal parties last Wednesday afternoon. Predominating was the list of candidates, who mixed felicitations with barbecued beef and beans and salad. Almost every part of the county was represented, which indicated no section was without representation. It is a cinch that everybody wanting an office can't get it. But they can attend a barbecue.

All right, then I won't say anything more about oranges—maybe.

Abandonment of railroad trackage, especially branch lines, is not an innovation in America since the automobile and bus and truck came into competition. When they become unprofitable, railroad managements give 'em a kick in the pants, and say, you were a good old hoss as long as we were able to give you some hay.

Courtesy Race Will End a Week From Tomorrow

The Journal Courtesy and Efficiency contest will close one week from tomorrow.

A whirlwind finish may land your favorite in one of the top eight positions, making it possible for him to receive valuable prizes. The Journal is offering to the winners.

A complete list of entrants is published today on Page 12. If you haven't selected a deserving employee, choose one from the list and follow him through to victory.

The vote coupon does not appear in The Journal today. Ballots will reappear tomorrow, however, and will continue being published daily for the next week.

PRESIDENT STEPS INTO OHIO PRIMARY BATTLE

SEN. BUCKLEY GETS PUBLIC ENDORSEMENT

MARIETTA, O. (AP)—President Roosevelt stepped into the Ohio Democratic primary today with a word of praise for Senator Robert J. Buckley.

Buckley, candidate for re-nomination, was the only individual mentioned by the President in his first address of a transcontinental speaking tour—except in his introduction.

Introduced by former Governor George White, Buckley's opponent to a crowd celebrating the 150th anniversary of the settling of northwest territory the chief executive said:

"Governor Davey, Senator Buckley, Chairman White—"

Later in the body of his speech, the President said:

"The cavalry captain who protected the log cabins of the northwest is now supplanted by legislators, like Senator Buckley, tolling over the drafting of . . . statutes and over the efficiency of government machinery to administer them so that . . . protection and help of government can be extended to the full."

The President thus exercised at the outset of his journey across the nation to California his previously declared right to intervene in primaries.

Buckley favored Mr. Roosevelt's court reorganization plan and voted for final passage of the President's executive reorganization measure.

People, four and five deep, pressed against the ropes which blocked off the speakers' stand in a park as the chief executive served notice he was pressing on with his program and expected popular support.

"I believe," the President said, "that the American people, not afraid of their own capacity to choose forward looking representatives to run their government, want the same co-operative security and have the same courage to achieve it, in 1938 as in 1788."

"I am sure they know that we will always have a frontier—of social problems and that we must always move in to bring law and order to it."

"In that confidence I am pushing on with me."

MEMORIAL UNVEILED
As soon as his prepared address was completed, he declared:

"I hereby dedicate this great monument, dedicated to 150 years of Americanism."

That was the signal for a flag and bunting draped shield to be pulled from a Lewis and Clark memorial.

The President said, in his introduction, that his "two old friends," Senator Buckley and Representative Robert T. Secrest, of Caldwell, Ohio, invited him to make the address several months ago.

MOOSE SEAT NEW OFFICERS

New officers in the Loyal Order of Moose were installed Wednesday evening at the Labor Temple on West Fourth street, with Robert F. Shippee, deputy district supreme dictator, and John Swally, deputy supreme sargeant at arms, officiating.

New officers of the lodge are Ernest Dunn, dictator; R. M. Conkey, vice-dictator; Sidney Damon, past dictator; John Rabe, prelate, and Harry Lacy, sargeant-at-arms.

Visiting lodge brothers from the Golden State lodge No. 29 of Los Angeles, and from greater Los Angeles lodge No. 134, were present to witness the ceremonies. Refreshments were enjoyed following the meeting.

12,000 FAIR CONTESTS

POMONA. (AP)—Six volumes of premium lists, classifying some 12,000 contests for which cash or trophy awards are to be made, have been issued by the Los Angeles county fair here for the Sept. 16-Oct. 2 meet.

Deputies Follow Trail of Alfalfa to Get Their Truck

Deputy Sheriffs Walt Dungan and Vern Mohn turned bloodhounds today, tracking a truck driver to his lair.

Dungan and Mohn were called to Ocean View early today by a report from Earl Farrar, grocer, that his neon sign had been smashed.

Joke of This Story Is on Egg Thief

Somewhere in Orange county an egg thief has a very red face today.

Frank Jones, who runs a chicken ranch at Seventeenth and Prospect streets, had approximately 200 incubator eggs, 18 days old and ready for testing, in a can near the chicken house on his ranch.

Apparently thinking they were fresh eggs, a prowler stole them, and this probably would be a better story if the expression on the thief's face could be printed.

ONE DEAD IN LINER CRASH

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—A Northwest Airlines transport plane carrying eight passengers and a crew of two crashed while taking off from Billings airport today, killing one person and injuring seven.

Mrs. N. S. Mackie of Evanston, Ill., died at St. Vincent's hospital in Billings shortly after the crash, the hospital announced.

Her husband, N. S. Mackie, was also taken to the hospital but the extent of his injuries was unknown.

Mrs. W. J. Tindale, Sloan, B. C., was also being treated at the hospital.

The other five passengers were released after treatment for minor cuts and bruises.

Movie Actor of 32 Years Ago Will Return to Screen

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Walter Cameron, who played the sheriff in "The Great Train Robbery," the first super movie 32 years ago, is returning to the screen after an absence of 16 years.

Cameron, now 69, has been renting horses to film folk bent on recreation in recent years. He will have a character role in a picture starring Carole Lombard and James Stewart, it was announced today.

HARWOOD IS CLUB SPEAKER

"Business men's legal problems" were discussed yesterday afternoon for Civitan club members by Donald D. Harwood, Santa Ana attorney.

Bob Hookaday will be next week's speaker, with Louis Davis as program chairman. Hookaday will speak on "Photography as a Hobby."

Guests at yesterday's meeting, attended by 18 members at the Rossmore cafe, were Claude Garner, Bill Matthews, Jay Myers and D. H. Tibals.

India Educator to Attend Synod

SANTA BARBARA. (AP)—Sam Higginbottom, docto of philanthropy, is coming to the Presbyterian Synod of California meeting here July 21-27 officials announced today.

He is president of Allahabad Christian college and head of the Agricultural Institute in Allahabad, India. The honorary doctor of philanthropy degree was conferred on him by Princeton university. He will deliver addresses at San Francisco, Pasadena and Hollywood before the synod meets.

Fighting Dutchmen Lose Citizenship

THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS. (AP)—The Netherlands government decided today to deprive Dutch volunteers fighting in Spain of their citizenship, but permit them to return home.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS 'LIKE FIRECRACKER'

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—H. P. Van Pelt, rear brakeman, said early today the locomotive of a Northern Pacific fast freight train "blew up like a giant firecracker" near Willis, Mont., killing three of the crew and two transients.

Carl H. Syria, U. S. forest ranger at Bonita, said Van Pelt told him five were known dead "and there might be more."

Van Pelt told the ranger the dead were:

Ernest M. Westin, engineer. E. T. Dunlap, fireman. Ernest Bedillion, head brakeman, all of Missoula.

Syria quoted the brakeman as saying the explosion came without warning near Willis, 29 miles east of Missoula in western Montana at about 11 p. m.

The locomotive "split in half," the ranger said Van Pelt told him. Half was in the Clarks Fork river, a tributary of the Columbia, and the other half alongside the tracks.

Nine cars were derailed, he told Syria.

The bodies of the crew were found pinned in the engine wreckage. The transients' bodies, which were unidentified, were found in the debris along the tracks.

The rear brakeman reported that "there was a full load" of 50 transients in the fifth car back, but Syria said he was told only 3 were injured slightly.

SUBPOENA FOR FILM MAKERS

NEW YORK. (AP)—A subpoena against each of seven major motion picture corporations was ordered by Judge Murray Hulbert in federal court for the taking of testimony and other evidence for use in nine Sherman anti-trust lawsuits pending in Boston federal court.

The corporations, all of which are defendants, include Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer distributing corporation, Fox Film corporation, Vitaphone, Inc., R-K-O Distributing corporation, United Artists corporation, Universal Film Exchange, Inc., and Columbia Pictures corporation.

The complaints, filed by seven independent theater operators in New England, New York and New Jersey, allege the plaintiffs were prevented, by a conspiracy of the defendants, from contracting for an adequate supply of films and from obtaining early releases of films.

FIRE SERIES ALARMS BAY

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—An arsonist was sought by San Francisco and Oakland police today following last night's spectacular five-alarm fire at a huge waterfront warehouse, the third major conflagration in as many days in the San Francisco area.

The firemen were treated for effects of smoke and other minor injuries in the blaze, which destroyed more than half of the block-long Southern Pacific shed at an estimated loss of $295,000.

Tuesday a $25,000 fire leveled a wooden warehouse of the Pacific coast Canning company at Oakland, and Wednesday the Oakland Shoe Manufacturing company suffered $20,000 loss to stock and machinery in another fire.

Lawyer Disbarred

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Joseph Leroy Herbert, Los Angeles attorney, was disbarred by the state supreme court here today, following a review of proceedings before the state bar. Charges were that he accepted money from clients without giving promised legal services in return.

Cardozo Rallies

PORT CHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Associate Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo of the United States supreme court who is ill at the home of Judge Irvin Lehman was reported today to have "rallied nicely" this morning after a not particularly good night.

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, former head of the New Jersey state police, was mentioned today as the No. 1 candidate for the Democratic United States senatorial nomination.

Schwarzkopf directed the state's investigation of the Lindbergh kidnapping.

As Franco Strikes At Loyalists

Pressing to paralyze shipping at Valencia, Spain, strategic seaport—the vital lifeline to the interior and Madrid—insurgent bombers made repeated raids on Valencia during June. Along the seacoast 16 British merchantmen were attacked. The bombings aroused the British parliament and vain demands were made to arm British craft with anti-aircraft guns. Franco countered with a proposal to designate "free ports" and to discriminate in favor of the British flag. This remarkable picture shows bombed ships burning and sinking in the Valencia harbor.

FRANCO GETS KEY OUTPOST

HENDAYE, France, at the Spanish Frontier. (AP)—Spanish insurgents reported tonight their army driving down the Mediterranean coast had occupied the northern outskirts of Nules, an important bulwark in government defenses of Valencia.

Nules straddles the highway down the seaboard plain about 34 miles north of Valencia and only 14 miles north of Sagunto.

While the main body of General Miguel Aranda's Galicians was attempting to surround the city, the left flank of his army was said to have reached the outskirts of Monofar, a village five miles further south.

Insurgent dispatches also said General Garcia Valino's command had stormed the heights of the Sierra de Espadan, last government-held hills barring the insurgents' way toward Valencia.

They were said to have reached a point where the towers of Segorbe, eight miles away, could be seen for the first time.

TWO YOUTHS EXECUTED

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Vurtis Neal, 19, and Hugh Marshall, 22, Indianapolis youths convicted of the $1.25 murder of William H. Bright, Indianapolis druggist, were executed in the state prison electric chair today.

Marshall died first because he had been first to register when the pair were taken to prison.

Two minutes later Neal was marched from his cell, and five minutes later the double execution had been completed.

Trial evidence showed Marshall and Neal waited near a traffic light and, as Bright stopped, climbed into his automobile, forced him to drive into Shelby county, shot him to death, took $1.25 from the man's clothes, then dumped his body into a river.

S. F. Firemen to Burn Down House

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—San Francisco firemen are going to be hosts today at a house-burning. The house, owned by Sam Mekita, was recently condemned by the city health department. Mekita said he thought it would be cheaper to burn the house down than demolish it. The fire department took the contract.

Whittie Remains In Critical Shape

Fred Whittie, Huntington Beach man stabbed in the abdomen by a rear door handle of an automobile in a "freak" accident Monday, spent a fair night at St. Joseph's hospital, but his condition still remains critical, it was reported.

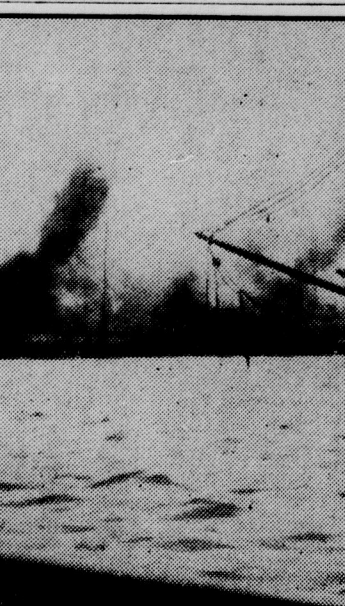

British Claim Record for Longest Non-Stop Flight

LONDON. (AP)—Four British bomber-type planes today established a record for the longest non-stop flight by an organized unit when they landed at Ismailia, Egypt, from Cranwell, Lincolnshire.

A ministry announcement said the planes, single motored craft carry no bombs or equipment, made the 4300 mile flight in about 32 hours.

The previous record was held by the Italian air force, two of whose planes flew 3320 miles from Dakar, French West Africa, to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, last Jan. 25. A third plane was forced down at Natal, Brazil.

GRAND JURY REFUSES TO INDICT 2 ASSEMBLYMEN

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The Sacramento county grand jury at a secret session last night refused to indict Assemblyman William B. Hornblower, San Francisco, and Earl Desmond, Sacramento, it was disclosed today.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock had asked for the indictment on his accusation that both legislators had accepted money to influence them in support of legislation.

Both had denied the charge and testified voluntarily to the grand jury payments they received were for legal services performed as attorneys and not as lawmakers.

Hornblower admitted having received monthly retainer fees from the Motor Carriers' association which is directed by Arthur H. Samish, San Francisco lobbyist and Monterey Sardine Industries, Inc., for legal work done as an attorney before commissions or for the giving of legal advice and obtaining data.

Desmond admitted receiving money from Henry F. Deuberry, in small amounts up to about $120 for legal services, use of his office facilities and stenographer by Deuberry as a representative of the tax revision league and an anti-auto trailer organization. The receipts which he signed for the money stated the payments were for legal services.

NO RELIEF NOW
The grand jury in a statement today said "the evidence presented by the district attorney shows conclusively that each of two members of the California legislature had accepted money from individuals for the purpose of influencing the success or defeat of measures pending or to be presented to the legislature."

"The grand jury cannot consider an assumption that the payments proven were calculated to influence the vote of the legislators involved on propaganda or prospective bills, to be laid before them. The fact must be demonstrated."

"There is no relief under present laws for the evils which may arise when members of the legal profession sitting as public officials assume the relationship of attorney to private clients for practice or advice in matters involving the state or any of its agencies, so long as it can be shown that the relationship is in line with the common practice permitted by the bar and the law."

LAW "INADEQUATE"
"It is the purpose of the grand jury to call to the attention of the citizens of California now and to the legislature at its forthcoming session, the inadequacy of the law itself in dealing with the possibility of public officials subordinating the interests of the state to those of private citizens or interests through the privilege at present permitting private practice by professional men while in public service."

BOMBERS KILL THREE
MADRID. (AP)—Three persons were killed and seven injured when nine insurgent Savoia (Italian-type) planes raided Segorbe, 40 miles northwest of Valencia, at dawn today.

BULLITT HITS AT BOMBERS

REIMS, France. (AP)—United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt delivered a scathing attack today on "certain nations" who resort to "murder of defenseless men, women and children" and "employ such crimes as instruments of their national policy."

The ambassador named no countries. He spoke at Reims city hall where he was made an honorary citizen.

The ambassador asserted "there are materials present from which to rebuild international morality."

"Only 20 years ago the murder of defenseless men, women and children unnamed merit a shudder of horror throughout the world. Since 1918, the decay of international morality has been so rapid that today certain nations are not ashamed to employ such crimes as instruments of national policy."

"Without international morality, as without national morality, there can be no human life worth living."

CHINESE STALL JAPS' DRIVE

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Japan's big offensive to reach Hankow stalled today as the Japanese army confronted new danger from guerrilla bands on widely separated fronts.

These bands of Chinese irregulars for the past year have been attacking from the rear and limiting Japanese control of occupied areas to the major railway lines, a few highways and large cities like Nanking, Peiping and Tientsin.

Night attacks have increased sharply in the past week in Hopeh province about Peiping. In East Honan about Kaifeng and Suichow, and in other regions.

Judge Advocates Check on Drivers

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—An occasional check up on each motorist's driving habits, just as cars are gone over once in a while, is necessary to avoid great tragedies and loss of life, Superior Court Judge George Bullock reported to the California Safety commission. He said ignorance of driving conditions and lack of knowledge of traffic regulations are basic causes of casualties.

Cotton Acreage of Nation Decreases

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The agricultural department announced today that 26,904,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation July 1. This was 78.0 per cent of the acreage a year ago from which the record crop of 18,945,022 bales was ginned.

British Troops, Warships Fight To Restore Order In Palestine

BOMB BLAST AT JAFFA GATE KILLS FOUR

JERUSALEM. (AP)—A bomb blast at Jerusalem's busy Jaffa Gate today killed four Arabs and wounded 36 in a new outbreak of deadly terrorism which Great Britain is trying to crush with warships and troop reinforcements.

The bomb tore apart a bus in the crowded Arab bus station and a vegetable market in the shadow of David's tower.

The vehicle was filled with Arab countryfolk about to leave for Hebron. Its bloodstained and twisted framework was scattered in a roadway filled with panic-stricken humanity.

Troops of the Scottish Black Watch regiment, wearing gleaming fixed bayonets cleared the square and started hunting the bomb thrower.

One Jew surrounded by an enraged Arab mob was rescued by police and hustled to safety.

About the same time a general strike broke out in Amman, in neighboring Transjordan. Workers struck in sympathy with Palestine Arabs, victims of bomb throwings at Haifa, Palestine's chief port.

Today's violence raised the casualties in nine days of riots and tension to 37 killed and 150 injured.

The British battle cruiser Repulse, one of the world's biggest battleships, steamed into Haifa harbor to take the place of the 7500-ton British cruiser Emerald. The Repulse trained her cannon on Haifa.

British troops and marines patrolled Haifa, into which Arabs were pouring for religious observances.

One Jewish store in Haifa was burned down. Three Jews were seriously injured when attacked by men wielding iron bars in a mixed quarters of the city.

Two battalions—at least 1600 men—of British troops rushed from Egypt to reinforce the 10,000 British soldiers, armed police, and aviators who had failed to halt the bloody reign of terror which Jewish leaders feared might develop into civil war between Jews and Arabs.

Officers planned to put the area under naval control. Marines with bared bayonets and loaded rifles were ready for emergency landings to occupy Kingsway and Center street, waterfront danger zones and battle grounds in Haifa, chief port of British-mandated Palestine.

Eleven squadrons of the British air force kept their machines tuned for quick flights and quick bombings of any town or village where any disorder might burst out to add to the already great tension.

The trouble started nine days ago with the hanging of a 19-year-old Jew for ambushing an Arab bus and has become the most serious in recent Palestine history.

2 EX-CONVICTS HELD SLAYERS OF BRUNEMAN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Two former convicts are facing a rest for the slaying of George (Les) Bruneman, Los Angeles gambler, police disclosed today.

Pictures of the two have been identified by witnesses as the gunmen who ambushed Bruneman in the Roost cafe la at Oct. 26, riddling his body with bullets and killing Frankie Greuzard, 24, when the latter tried to take the license number of their getaway car.

Police said one of the suspects is under surveillance in San Francisco, while a request to arrest the second man has been telegraphed to Chief of Detectives E. W. Yorls of Seattle.

Bruneman's slaying, investigators declared, was the result of a gambling war in adjacent Redondo Beach, where he operated a club and was wounded in a previous attempt at assassination July 19, 1937.

Bruneman, struck by three bullets, was nursed back to health by a pretty hospital aide, Alice Ingram. She was with him at a cafe table the night he was killed, and was herself wounded.

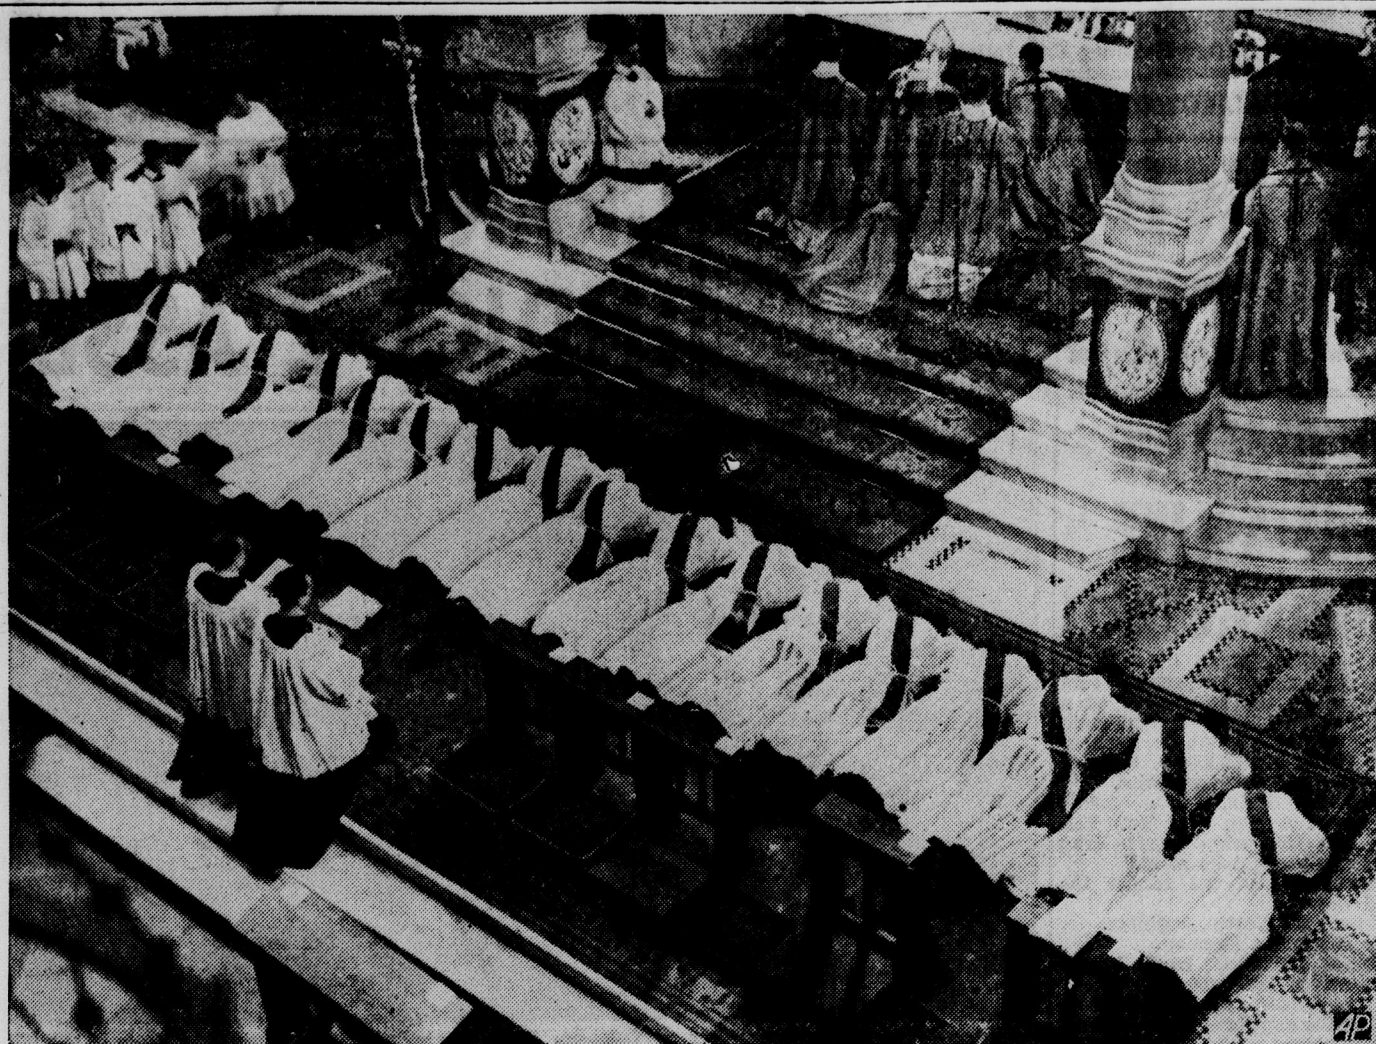

Although Bruneman, for months, knew he was on the "spot," he kept silent under police questioning. Officers said they had evidence indicating his death was planned by a "gangster-politician."

PROBATION GRANTED TWO

Frank Andrade, 25 Placentia, and Mayo Ayala, 20, Anaheim, were granted six years' probation today by Superior Judge James L. Allen on their plea of guilty to driving a car without the owner's consent.

Andrade, whose record shows a score of arrests here and in other counties, and his younger companion pleaded guilty to charges they "borrowed" the car of George Holditch June 5. They will be released from jail when they obtain a sponsor.

"I have 63 other young men out on probation," Judge Allen told the youths, "and if you violate the terms of your probation you'll be the first to do so."

TO THE RANKS OF PRIESTHOOD were admitted 17 men in ordination at London's Westminster cathedral with Arthur Cardinal Hinsley, England's only Catholic cardinal, officiating. Above prostration before the altar is one phase of holy ceremony.

MIGHTY WINDS MUST BLOW through Kent, England, to launch Farmer H. E. Hukins' giant kite with 47-foot wing span. He hopes to use it to take pictures of his lands.

BOARD VOTES RISE FOR 100

A forty-cent daily pay increase for 100 road department laborers was approved today by the board of supervisors on recommendation of Highway Supt. A. A. Beard.

Laborers who have been with the department a year or more will be raised one notch in classification, giving them 55 cents an hour instead of 50.

Office help was not included in the raise, but will be considered later when supervisors meet to revise salaries generally under the county salary ordinance. Requests from several other department heads for raises for deserving employees now are on file with the board and will be considered before the salary budget is fixed next month.

The increasing number of mental patients in hospitals is attributed not to increased mental disease, but to the tendency to seek treatment for mental and nervous troubles while they are still in early and mild stages.

DAY OF DEATH FOR KIDNAPER SET JULY 14

CHICAGO. (AP)—Federal Judge John P. Barnes today set July 14 as the day on which John Henry Seadlund must die in the electric chair for kidnaping Charles S. Ross, retired Chicago Greeting Card manufacturer, last Sept. 25.

Seadlund, 27, formerly of Iron, Minn., was led into the crowded courtroom handcuffed to two deputy United States marshals to hear the date set a second time.

The original date, April 19, was nullified when the case was appealed.

Seadlund said nothing while in court. The grinning wily through-out the proceedings.

The court-appointed attorneys who defended him at his trial, Floyd E. Thompson and Frederic Burnham, were not present but sent as representatives C. L. Emrich and Miles G. Seeley, respectively. Emrich and Seeley took no action, and said afterward no further efforts to delay execution of the sentence would be made since the defendant wished none.

After a brief hearing, Seadlund was marched back to the Cook county jail where he will await electrocution.

2909 FEWER RUM LICENSES

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Selling hard liquor is not the royal road to riches, many in California have discovered.

There are 2909 fewer licenses in force now for retailing distilled spirits than there were two years ago. Then there were 11,328 permits as compared to 8419 in existence now.

While hard liquor permits were dwindling, beer licenses increased by more than a thousand.

DR. G. A. MILLER DIES BEVERLY HILLS. (AP)—Dr. George A. Miller, 57, lecturer and former head of the Near East relief organization, died at his home here yesterday. He formerly was minister of the Santa Paula Universalist church.

$30,000 ALIMONY NEW YORK. (AP)—Orator Francis Woodward of Leroy, N. Y., who settled $1,000,000 on his first wife when they were divorced in 1929, has been ordered to pay his second wife, Mrs. Mary Trask Woodward, $30,000 a year alimony.

In China today there are 115 Catholic periodicals published in 43 cities and towns, chiefly in Peiping and Shanghai, which have 25 each. They appear in eight different languages.

Irene Bennett Has $8500 Judgment

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A jury of 11 men and one woman awarded an $8500 judgment today to Irene Bennett, film actress and one-time Memphis, Tenn., beauty contest winner, in a suit involving her two-year illness in a sanitarium.

Miss Bennett sued Dr. H. J. Strathearn, a film studio physician, charging he permitted her to continue screen work while she was unwell and this caused her condition to become serious.

Anaheim Man Held In Morals Case

Accused of a felony morals offense against a 14-year-old Anaheim girl, Warren "Pete" Nelson, 22, Anaheim painter, was booked in the county jail late yesterday.

Nelson was arrested by Anaheim police for sheriff's officers, who had been seeking him on a warrant. Officers said today they believed Nelson had married the girl in Yuma Wednesday.

GRAY MURDER GUN FOUND IN VACANT LOT

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Recovery of the automatic pistol that killed King D. Gray, Hollywood cameraman, speeded up police search today for a woman suspect in the week-old case.

The weapon was found in a vacant lot a few blocks from the Hollywood postoffice where Gray was slain in his car on June 30.

Tests proved that the pistol had fired the bullet which pierced the cameraman's chest. Police Chemist Ray Pinker said.

The vacant lot, officers admitted, is located near the residence of a woman named in an anonymous postcard this week as Gray's slayer. They learned she had not returned to her room since the night of the shooting, although her clothing was still there.

5-Man Air Board Named By President

CONTROL OVER INDUSTRY NOW IS UNIFIED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Divided federal control of civil aviation ended today with President Roosevelt's appointment of a five-man civil aeronautics authority headed by Edward J. Noble of Greenwich, Conn.

Congress created the board in reply to criticisms of decentralized authority over commercial and private flying. The new board will take over the work of the commerce department's bureau of air commerce and the air mail bureau of the interstate commerce commission and the postoffice department.

The board will issue pilot licenses and safety regulations, pass on air mail and passenger rates and routes, approve government expenditures for aviation, consult with the state department on aviation matters concerning foreign relations, and advise with the weather bureau on meteorological matters.

Harlee Branch, second assistant postmaster general who has been in charge of the department's air mail activities, was appointed vice chairman of the new board. The appointments are for six-year terms at $12,000 a year. Other members are:

G. Grant Mason of Washington, who has been in charge of Pan-American Airways' Latin American division with headquarters in Havana, Robert Rineck of Utah, WPA administrator for far western states.

Oswald Ryan of Indiana, general counsel for the federal power commission.

Clinton M. Hester of Montana, assistant general counsel of the treasury, was named administrator. He will handle the detailed work of the agency, while the board's duties will be quasi-judicial.

Thomas O. Hardin of Texas, vice president of the Air Line Pilots' association, and Sumner Smith of Alabama, in charge of WPA airport and airways activities, were appointed to the safety board created by the civil aeronautics act. A third member remains to be appointed. They will receive $7500 a year.

Oscar Hatle Trial Set for Aug. 2

Accused of felony drunk driving in an auto crash which injured five persons May 30, Oscar Hatle today pleaded not guilty before Superior Judge James L. Allen and heard trial set for Aug. 2 before a jury in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

Hatle was arrested after a crash at Newport boulevard and coast highway, in which his car collided with an auto driven by Bernard H. Patterson, injuring Patterson and four passengers. Thomas H. Kuchel, Anaheim attorney, appeared as counsel for Hatle.

Sheppard to Open Drive Tomorrow

Congressman Harry Sheppard will open his 1933 campaign for reelection in San Bernardino tomorrow, when Democratic delegates from the three-county 19th district gather for an afternoon and evening meeting.

Harold Thorsen, secretary to the congressman, will address the group in the civic auditorium during the afternoon, and Sheppard will speak at the evening meeting.

Driver Escapes Death In Crash

Pushed 81 feet on a trestle crossing the Los Angeles river in North Hollywood, after being struck by a Pacific Electric trolley, this automobile teetered on the edge of the bridge long enough to permit rescuers to remove Mrs. Virginia Duncan of Van Nuys, Calif., driver of the car. Mrs. Duncan is expected to recover despite a concussion of the brain and a fractured pelvis.

PIONEER OF COUNTY DIES

Mrs. Virginia Adelaide Whitehead, 86, died at her home, 902 Brown street, yesterday following a long illness. Born in Katesville, Mo., she had resided in this city for the past 53 years.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Jess L. Ainsworth of Orange, and a son, William S. Whitehead of Irvine.

On first coming to California, Mrs. Whitehead settled in the Villa Park district and was a member of the Orange Christian church. When she moved to Santa Ana her membership was changed to the Santa Ana Christian church.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Brown and Wagner chapel with the Rev. W. S. Buchanan officiating. Interment will follow in Santa Ana cemetery.

INSURANCE SUIT FILED

Suit for $1000 assertedly due on a life insurance policy was filed in Santa Ana justice court today against the Alliance Mutual Life association of Santa Ana.

Plaintiff in the action was the Maccie L. Forry, who charges the insurance firm was refused to pay $1000 on a policy issued in 1932 on the life of Charles L. Forry, who died June 10. The policy lapsed once, she said, but apparently was renewed when the company continued to accept payments. She asked judgment for $1000 plus interest from the date of Mr. Forry's death.

Auxiliary Leader Plans Convention

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, of Seattle, national president of the American Legion auxiliary, conferred today on plans for the annual convention here in September.

Mrs. Douglas reported the auxiliary's membership as 425,000, largest in history.

GROUP TO TALK RAIL MERGER WITH S. P.

A special committee consisting of Fred Merker, William Penn and Harvey Gardner will visit the superintendent of operations of the Southern Pacific railroad in Los Angeles this afternoon with the suggestion the company abandon its rail line paralleling Santa Ana boulevard in the interest of economy to the Southern Pacific.

The committee, which will call on Supt. C. F. Donnatini, was named this morning at an executive meeting of the chamber of commerce directorate. Present at the session were President Fred Merker, Harry Hanson, W. F. Croddy and George Dunton and H. I. Wood.

It was pointed out at the session that abandonment of the line would eliminate repairing and maintenance of three culverts and two bridges by the railroad company. Highway 101 crosses the tracks at two points, the group was told further, and this nuisance would be eliminated were the tracks taken up. Furthermore, four other principal Santa Ana streets cross the tracks: Broadway, Flower, Bush and Santa Clara.

Civic leaders point out that the tracks are used infrequently by the company, and that any traffic they carry could easily be handled by a cooperative agreement between the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific.

The committee visiting the railroad man today will report back to a chamber directorate meeting next Monday. Several civic officials hope the company will accede to the request before additional money is spent on repairing bridges along the line. Crews are preparing to reconstruct the railroad's bridge over the Santa Ana river, it was reported.

$4610 SPENT IN COUNTY ON FARM PROGRAM

Local farmers' committees and associations spent $4610.96 in Orange county to execute the 1936 agricultural conservation program between July 1, 1936 and Feb. 28, 1937—a lower local cost than all but one of Southern California counties.

Bulk of local expense funds went to farmer committees and field men paid on a day-to-day basis. Local expenses generally amounted to 5 per cent of the $376,097, $286 paid all over the county to farmers for taking part in the program.

Only county in Southern California where farmers had to pay less was Ventura, where the figure was $3676.89. Highest local-expense county was Fresno, with $31,392.93.

MRS. BARNES DIES AT HOME

Mrs. A. W. Barnes, 56, died this morning at her home at 714 West Palm street, Orange. Born in Irton, Yorkshire, England, she had resided in California for the past 24 years.

She is survived by her husband, A. W. Barnes; by two sisters, Mrs. Nina Cusack of Nova Scotia, and Mrs. Jessie Frazier of Irton; and by five brothers, all in England. Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. from the Shannon funeral chapel in Orange.

The parade ground in front of Edinburgh Castle, in Scotland, is legally a part of Nova Scotia. It was so declared in the reign of Charles I so that newly made Nova Scotian baronets could "take possession" of their lands on Nova Scotian territory.

Fullerton Votes Not To Build New City Hall In Amerige Park

HEAVY VOTE CAST ON ISSUE: 1318 TO 1055

FULLERTON. — There will be no city hall constructed in Amerige park here.

By a vote of 1318 to 1055 yesterday, Fullerton citizens elected to retain a petition prohibiting the use of the park for municipal buildings.

The city council proposed to see whether the public would reconsider granting permission to place a city hall on the 115-foot strip between the left field fence of Fullerton's regulation baseball park and the sidewalk. A petition opposing this was passed by a 96 vote majority when the park was dedicated in Dec. 1936, and was upheld by a more decisive vote yesterday.

Interest in the election was heated, one of the largest summer votes on record being cast here.

The action forced the city council to table plans for a city hall until another suitable site can be located, it was learned.

Church Group at C. M. Home Meet

COSTA MESA. — Mrs. Warren L. Cook, 160 Twentieth street, was hostess this week to a luncheon meeting of the Ladies Aid of Community church.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinkler, Laguna Beach; Ernest Armstrong, W. L. Cook, Dr. M. B. Armstrong, and the Mesdames Fred Long, Margaret Dean, E. A. Randall, Emil Myrhn, sr., Ica Clark, Mildred Warner, Vernon Coyner, Clara Rollins, H. Baker, Monroe Nettles, Don Platt, H. B. McMurdy, and C. C. Attridge.

Padua Hills Player

Mexican Player EVA GOMEZ in costume of Tehuantepec, subject of one of the regional sketches being presented in Padua Hills current offering "TRES PUERTAS" (Three Doors).

A novel feature of the production is that at the opening of every performance a bit of each of the three sketches is shown, and the audience votes for the district it prefers to see. At the close of the scene there is an Jamaica—outdoor fiesta scene—in which everyone participates. Evening performances are given Wednesday through Saturday, and matinees are on those two days only. Every day during the year, the players entertain in the dining room during luncheon and dinner.

The Core...No More

ANAHEIM.—Installation of automatic traffic control signals at the downtown intersection of Los Angeles and Center streets has been started by the street department.

ORANGE. — Harold Thomas installed as president of the 20-30 club here. Other new officers are Martin Nieweg, vice president; Willard Galey, secretary, and Tom Flippin, sergeant-at-arms.

FULLERTON. — Fire losses here for the fiscal year ending July 1 total only $1156, representing less than 11 cents per capita.

ORANGE. — Kellar E. Watson, 244 South Glassell, and Alfred Leach, 132 North Center street, will leave San Pedro harbor July 16 on the first lap of a round-the-world cruise. They will return in four months.

GARDEN GROVE. — Charles E. Jaynes, Jr., 8-year-old preacher of this community, interviewed on Rob Ripley's "Believe It or Not" program.

ANAHEIM. — Harry C. Arthur, sr., unanimously re-elected as president of the chamber of commerce, and Carroll Cone unanimously re-elected vice president yesterday. O. E. Hanson was named treasurer, and John Morgan retained as secretary.

FULLERTON. — Miss Dorothy Gamble of Hollywood, head of the department of married relations of the California federation of churches, will speak on "Family Relations" at 10 a. m. services Sunday in the First Presbyterian church here, the Rev. Graham C. Hunter announced.

NEWPORT BEACH. — Rada, 30-foot cabin cruiser which has been missed here 24 hours, makes port. Rodger Smith, sole occupant of the boat, reported he had been trapped in a large kelp bed, and only by installing an auxiliary outboard motor had he been able to free the boat.

LAGUNA BEACH. — Fishermen from other communities here come and take mussels off the rocks in quantities for sale. Emil Wick of the Rod and Reel club complained to the city council. He suggested that such activities be banned by city ordinance, but City Attorney Harvey expressed the opinion that such ordinance would not be valid. He will investigate the matter.

ORANGE. — Two two-way radio sets for police patrol and station equipment have been ordered by Chief of Police George Franzen.

HUNTINGTON BEACH. — The city council will meet as a board of equalization to hear tax protests preceding its regular meeting here Monday night, City Clerk Charles Furr announced.

Mrs. Mellott Acts As Club Hostess

COSTA MESA. — Mrs. Homer Mellott was hostess at this week's meeting of the Contract Bridge club, at which Mrs. Ray Wallace won high score and Mrs. M. J. Hostetter, second. Mrs. Wallace will be hostess at next week's meeting.

Present were Mesdames Joseph C. Payne, John Wilcox, M. J. Hostetter, George Healey, Ray Wallace, George Bremer, George Healey, Frank P. Wells and the hostess.

Thousands of Fish Caught Off Beach

NEWPORT BEACH. — Fishing in the Newport Beach area has been good all week, with 5712 fish being hooked off the Valencia III, Sunshine and May-B boats. Darrell W. King reported. The catch: barracuda, 3573; yellowtail, 210; Calico bass, 1589; white sea bass, 274; and halibut, 66.

HUNTINGTON BEACH. — City councilmen will take up the matter of salary readjustment at their next meeting here July 13.

ORANGE. — Clarence Alden, Orange High school graduate, is offering public instruction in tennis free at the city park from 7 a. m. to 1 p. m. daily.

ANAHEIM. — Manager Ray Ortez, sr., Anaheim Merchants will play Corona's first-half baseball champions on the high school grounds here Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.

LAGUNA BEACH. — Business and Professional Women's club southern district will gather here July 17 for an all-day meeting with luncheon to be served in the school patio.

ORANGE. — Four persons have been fined by Justice of the Peace Cal Lester on charges of smoking in restricted areas, and United States forestry service officials prepare to "crack down" on violators of the county ordinance in the Cleveland National forest.

COSTA MESA. — Harold Grauel, president of the Costa Mesa-Newport Harbor Lions club, chosen to represent the club in the national convention at Oakland next month.

LA HABRA. — New city budget estimates general city expenditures for the year at $22,858.92, as compared with $24,118 for the fiscal year just closed.

Vacation School Program Tonight

COSTA MESA. — Pupils of the Daily Vacation Bible school will present a varied program displaying their accomplishments, at graduation exercises, 7:30 p. m. today.

According to Mrs. Ed Bennett, general superintendent, songs and memorized scripture will fill the first part of the program, while a missionary play given by Sixth grade girls, under the direction of Mrs. Elmer Clark, will close the evening. Psalm I will be recited by the Junior group, the Beginner's and Primary groups also participating in the program.

Parking Lines in La Habra Talked

LA HABRA. — Painting of angle parking lines on both sides of Central avenue from Main to Lois streets here this week helped solve this community's traffic problems. An official has suggested that the "school girl" signs, many of which have been demolished by reckless drivers, be replaced by signs representing a traffic officer in life size, but no action has been taken.

Mountain States Reunion July 16

Sections of Bixby park, Long Beach, will be reserved for former residents of Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada and Utah at a joint picnic reunion July 16. Persons are requested to bring basket lunches, although food will be sold in the park.

Toler Rites Set

LA HABRA. — Funeral services for William Toler, 69, resident here for 25 years and a special deputy sheriff of Los Angeles county, will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow from the Backs, Terry and Campbell chapel, Anaheim. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery, Los Angeles.

AROUND AND ABOUT TOWN WITH SKINNY

(Continued From Page 1) detours and has a hazy recollection about the incident, but if Mr. Reporter will see Mr. So and so he might be able to tell him. And by the time Mr. Reporter chases Mr. So and so from office to home and country club the paper has gone to press, and then who cares who said so and so. If you think reporting is easy, try it.

In the Santa Fe magazine for July, two pictures of California packing houses intrigue me from the standpoint of operation and personnel. The first one—1908—operated with the old overhead system of belts and pulleys, and the modern with electric propulsion with power invisible. And as a further evidence of changing times and conditions, the few men who were a part of the packing force in 1908 have been entirely supplanted by women. Not a man left. Which goes to show that we do not show. Darn the luck, unless us "weaker sex" declare ourselves it won't be long before we won't amount to any more than the horse and buggy.

Dr. Harwood sends Ernie Madden such astounding evidence of piscatorial skill that Ernie has been dizzy ever since the card came. Dr. says the catch is official. The fishing event took place at Whitehorse, B. C. I started to count, was mixed up in my mathematics, sent for an adding machine, and darned if it didn't look like Dr. would be home before I finished counting, yet the card said one day's catch. Dr. Harwood flew to Juneau June 30 on A. P. plane. He expects to be home in about 10 days. Dr. says oranges are selling wholesale at 75 cents a dozen, size 22's, all Blue Goose. I've a lot of oranges I can rechristen "Blue Goose" if they'll bring me 75 cents a dozen.

"Bob" Olsen, of Los Angeles, who mixes up in a lot of things which become a hobby, also studies advertising in an agency under his name. He is credit manager for a real estate company, and chemistry is his favorite horse. He thrills over what plants and bulbs will do in water, and abetted by the right kind of a solution. He says if you live in a flat where space is limited you better grow your own vegetables, and his system of Kemi-Kulture will do the trick. You don't need soil or much room, but plenty of water. Olsen's system might be a solution to the soil erosion problem.

'HOLD STILL' British Princess Margaret, 7, might have told Princess Elizabeth, 12, when they and their father (right) and mother (in fur coat) reviewed 1,000 Girl Guides. Elizabeth wears a Guide uniform; Margaret is dressed as a Brownie.

LAGUNA THEME SONG TO OPEN ART FESTIVAL

LAGUNA BEACH. — Written by Cleo Allen Hibbs and Marshall Stedman, Laguna Beach's theme song will open the annual Festival of Arts here July 29 to Aug. 6. Gertrude Selsel, Marjorie and Edith McDonald of the "We Three Trio" at Hotel Laguna, will sing the Laguna song, with a sextet of Laguna dancing girls repeating the theme in a dance number arranged by Miss Mary Cooper, entertainment chairman.

Appearing in the dance will be the Misses Mary Lou Davis, Betty Goode, Andree Merritt, Helen Fitch, Billy Lous Switzer and Judy Baum. Another dance specialty will be presented by twin sisters, Jacqueline and Bonnie Jean Evans.

Other Laguna artists appearing on the program are Tania Serduke, violinist; Margaret Wilder, graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music; and Mrs. Rosner, singer with the original Victor Herbert Troupe.

SKIPPERS OF 20 CITIES TO RACE AT BAY

NEWPORT-BALBOA. — Skippers from at least 20 Southland cities will compete in the third annual flight of the "snowbirds" in races here July 17.

Sailing enthusiasts from Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Marino, Riverside, Monrovia, Redlands, Alhambra, Beverly Hills, Upland, Glendale and Whittier already have filed entries.

Chairman Harry B. Stewart hopes to secure more than one hundred entries, he announced today. Twenty trophies and medals will be awarded.

The committee assisting citizens of Huntington Beach in preparing for the celebration the 26th of this month includes: J. B. Tucker of Santa Ana; B. D. Johnson, Harry Welch and Howard I. Wood.

'Month-To-Live' Girl Better

Early in June, when Hertha Klinkig (above), 21, was taken to a Chicago hospital suffering from a mysterious glandular shock, physicians believed she might die within a month. But 31 days later she was still smiling, despite the dire prediction, and had recorded a gain in weight of three pounds.

Coast Association, C. of C. Presidents' Group May Join Huntington Beach Festival

HUNTINGTON BEACH. — The Orange County Coast association and the Chambers of Commerce presidents group may waive their meetings this month to join in the countywide celebration at Huntington Beach during the afternoon and evening of July 26.

On this date at the beach city all county business people and their families are cordially invited to join in what is termed the first annual Orange county day. The celebration will begin at 5 p. m. with a picnic supper, followed by five or six acts of vaudeville, and a dance. Festivities will center around the new Huntington Beach pavilion. For those wishing to eat supper at the seaside, bonfires will be built to prepare dinners.

Possibility was expressed today by chamber officials in Santa Ana that two such celebrations could be held annually, one during the summer as an entertainment, and another in the winter. On the latter occasion a business meeting would be conducted.

The committee assisting citizens of Huntington Beach in preparing for the celebration the 26th of this month includes: J. B. Tucker of Santa Ana; B. D. Johnson, Harry Welch and Howard I. Wood.

ANAHEIM CLUB OF LIONS PAYS G. G. CLUB VISIT

GARDEN GROVE. — Dispensing with their own luncheon session this week, Anaheim Lions, 34 strong, paid the Garden Grove club a visit Wednesday. Dick Haster, conducting his first session as president, welcomed the guests and spoke briefly about his native country, Holland.

A. Edelson of the Garden Grove High school faculty, as the featured speaker, discussed the European situation of today, chiefly as it applies to the troubles in Spain. Robert Rossberg of the Anaheim club told of his recent trip to Vancouver, B. C., and several candidates for public office spoke briefly. These were A. J. Cruickshank of Santa Ana, candidate for county treasurer; George Holden, Anaheim, who is seeking election as district attorney; James M. Pearson of Fullerton, candidate for sheriff, and Homer Wallace and Eldon Stark, who are running for constable and justice of the peace of Anaheim township.

George Holden of the visiting club was extended the honor of presenting Dr. J. C. Kraushaar, retiring president of the Garden Grove club, with a past president's pin, from his fellow club members.

Visiting Anaheim members included Wallace Rossberg, Holden, the Rev. H. G. Schmeltzer, Harry Macres, August Eltiste, William Gordon, Carroll Cone, John Boege, Grover Rorer, Percy Houts, sr., C. P. Tompkins, Francis Elliott, Ernest Ganahl, Louis Hoskins, Lew Howe, O. E. Hanson, S. B. Kaufman, Marshall Beebe, Art Wilmsen, Sam Higenfeld, Earl Jaspson, A. P. Brown, Joe Scholz, Henry J. Du Bois, Merle R. Strand, Newell Christenson, Charles E. Griffith, Wayne Griggs, Vic La Mont, Roy Mendoza, William Payne and Al Rueter.

Orange Man's Will In Probate Court

Probate of the will of the late Herman Watje of Orange, leaving an estate worth more than $10,000 to the widow, was asked today in a superior court petition by a nephew, W. H. Siemen. Mr. Watje died July 4.

Mrs. Martha K. Watje, the widow, gets a life estate in the property, mostly real estate, under terms of a will dated Dec. 6, 1934. At her death it goes to a daughter, Martha D. Watje of Los Angeles, with the exception of a $100 bequest to a son, Walter Watje of Norwalk.

RECORDER IN 2 YEARS MAKES COUNTY MONEY

Two-year profits of $23,682.89 for the county recorder's office were reported today by Recorder J. Fred Sidebottom from figures showing the fiscal year's business done by his office.

Profit for the 1937-38 fiscal year, over and above expense of running the office was $10,636.35 from recording fees, despite a drop in receipts apparently caused by the general business slump of the past six months. Profits for the 1936-37 fiscal year were $13,046.54.

Gross income from fees dropped from $46,791.30 in 1936-37, including $46,066.30 in recordings and $725 for Torrens title work, to $44,321.50 for 1937-38, including $43,663.55 in recording fees and $657.95 in Torrens fees.

Instruments recorded during the past year totaled 309 less than during 1936-37, but included 2406 more free instruments—recorded without charge for city, county and state governments. Total instruments filed in 1936-37 were 35,002, including 4152 free, and in 1937-38, 34,693, including 6558 free recordings.

RIP TIDES ALONG COAST

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A full force of lifeguards patrolled Southern California beaches today as rip tides and heavy seas pounded almost the entire coast south of Malibu.

More than a dozen men and women were rescued from the ocean yesterday.

An unidentified man was reported swept to sea by a rip tide at Long Beach, and drowned. The body was not recovered.

With huge waves breaking over rainbow pier at Long Beach, the thoroughfare was closed to pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

At Santa Monica, the dredge Anita broke from her moorings and damaged a pier before she could be hauled back.

3 Held After L. A. Drug Store Holdup

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Police held two men and a woman today on suspicion of robbery. They were arrested in an automobile shortly after two drug stores had been held up and robbed within the space of a few minutes in a similar manner by a Mexican man and Mexican woman.

Loose of the two robberies totaled $110, but police found only $38.44 in possession of the three arrested.

The three are Eddie Alvarado, 32, his brother, Robert, 25, and Robert's wife, Georgia.

Job Preparation in Schools Advocated

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Some thing must be done to better prepare high school and college graduates for jobs, two speakers told a conference of educators at the University of Southern California.

"Society cannot afford to operate a system of education that permits large numbers of its youth to be 'lost' after graduation," Dr. Ernest O. Melby, dean of the school of education at Northwestern University, said in an address yesterday.

Hollywood Youth Killed by Train

LARKSPUR, Calif. (AP)—Roy Harland Turk, 19, of Hollywood, died in a hospital here yesterday after he had been struck by a northwestern Pacific Electric train at Escalante.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

In every great convention there are always incidents and personalities which stand out with vividness. It was so in the recent Townsend national convention held in Los Angeles. Tonight's column will be devoted to describing such incidents and persons.

Someone has said that "history is largely a matter of biographies" which I believe to be true. In Old Testament history the statement is made that King Saul's stature was such that he stood head and shoulders above other men but measured by the annals of time the shepherd boy David as a contemporary of King Saul outshines him.

Measured in the light of the happenings of the Townsend national convention and in contrast with all other personalities taking part in its sessions, the quiet, unobtrusive Dr. Francis E. Townsend was the most outstanding personality present. He was the magnet around which the other men and women of talent congregated. Not a speech was delivered that did not brim over with allusions to the greatness of the Townsend leader and his ideas. No other person of the convention was applauded every time he appeared on the platform as he came and went as was Dr. Townsend. And so it must be admitted by honest observers even though they be enemies of the doctor that in the convocation he was the leader, that outshone all others. In moments of crisis, of which there were several in the convention, invariably matters were referred to the doctor for a decision, and in each and every instance he never faltered or wavered, but immediately directed deliberation into harmonious channels and wise ones as well. When called upon to speak in such emergencies he did so with quick, deft, decisive statements that left no doubt as to his good judgment. Thus looking back at the convention and the part which Dr. Francis E. Townsend played in its deliberations, the conviction becomes positive that another great American leader has arisen to lead the people into possession of their rightful heritage. Some day when his labors have been ended the American people along with the rest of the world will say, as was once said of another great man, "He belongs to the ages."

From the standpoint of masterliness of delivery and quality of thought strictly Townsend, the laurels for speeches would undoubtedly be voted by those who heard them as belonging to Rep. Ralph O. Brewster of Maine and to Capt. Russell R. Hand of Los Angeles. Both men were superb as speakers and roused their audiences beyond that of any other of the many fine speakers who appeared before the convention sessions.

Walter B. Pitkin, author of "Life Begins at Forty," and Warren S. Thompson, director of the Scripps Foundation, were two guest speakers of the convention who stood out as having messages fitting into the Townsend picture. Both of these men outlined American trends which give evidence of the need of the Townsend plan becoming law although they did not in general so stress it.

E. J. Speake, director of Townsend organization, and Robert C. Townsend, secretary-treasurer of the T. N. R. P. Inc., each brought splendid messages which convinced the convention that both of these men are especially capable, and that they are the right men for the places they fill. L. W. Jeffrey, vice president of the Townsend organization who was made permanent chairman of the convention, showed capability, and at times let loose a barrage of thought that made the writer desire to hear him some time in a real speech. The most outstanding of youthful speakers on the convention program was Miss Harrieta Burke of Los Angeles who will speak in Santa Ana Townsend hall at 7:30 tomorrow night. She is a real capable speaker and if you miss hearing her you will be making a mistake. Roy J. Webb, Riverside county resident and now director for the state of Illinois, enthused the convention by his recital of now the labor movement in Illinois is coming to the support of the Townsend plan movement.

Harry B. Elliott, national representative for the New England states and also for the state of New York, made a fine speech. He outlined accomplishments being obtained in the northeastern portion of the United States for the Townsend movement. The writer had an interview with Mr. Elliott and learned from him that great progress is being made with the businessmen of the New England region. Many of them are becoming affiliated with the Townsend organization as Townsend Legion members. He also

CONTINUANCE OF BANK SUIT TO BE FOUGHT

R. L. Wilhelm, Los Angeles accountant who is suing the First National bank for $2616.40 for services he assertedly performed in 1934, today prepared to oppose a bank motion for continuance of the case, based on grounds of illness of a material witness.

Arguments on the motion are scheduled to be heard late today by Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen. The motion is by Fred Forgy, attorney for the bank, who has filed an affidavit from Dr. Milo K. Tedstrom, Santa Ana physician, that J. L. Bascom, assistant cashier of the bank is ill in a hospital and will be unable to testify in court for four months.

Wilhelm started fireworks in the suit two months ago, when he demanded that Forgy be jailed for contempt of court. He claimed Forgy attempted to delay the taking of Bascom's deposition, but failed in his attempt. First appearing as his own attorney, Wilhelm now has engaged the Los Angeles law firm of Marcus, Rabin and Nash as his counsel.

He opposes the bank's motion for continuance, and insists the trial should go on as scheduled July 23.

COUNTRY CLUB GROUPS NAMED

Committees to carry on Country club activities for the year were announced today by President R. A. Emsion. They are:

House, J. Riley Huber, chairman; Don Andrews and Ben Manker, greens; William Jeffrey, chairman; Harold Wright, Ben Osterman; finance, Hugh Lowe, chairman; S. C. Russell, J. Riley Huber.

Handicap, tournament and caddy house, Ed Holmes, chairman; Don Andrews, Harry Wilson, Deal Campbell; membership, Bob Fernandez, chairman; Ed Holmes, William Jeffrey, George Osterman, Roy Langley, Dick Ewert.

Publicity, R. C. Holmes, chairman; Charlotte Colburn, Deal Colver; women's social, Mrs. A. G. Flagg, chairman.

Security Issues Largest in Month

NEW YORK. (AP)—New security issues this week were the latest in more than a month, topping the previous period and the comparable week last year.

Offerings totaled $94,480,982 against $15,540,693 a week ago and $14,132,185 last year.

The $85,000,000 Standard Oil of New Jersey issue was the largest single item.

told the writer how Professor Staley of Staley College of the Spoken Word, Brooklyn, Mass., is offering a $2500 scholarship to the young man or young woman who delivers the best Townsend speech on the Townsend plan.

Dr. Joe Robb, director of Townsend work in Pennsylvania, outlined the political set-up in connection with the outstanding defeat administered to Rep. Crosby in the recent primaries because of his betrayal of the Townsend organization. The writer had conversation with Mr. Robb of Pennsylvania and found him quite an interesting personality but apparently no close relative of his own but nevertheless evidently of the same family tree. It was learned from Floyd R. Moody, Townsend director for Michigan, that in that state no endorsements of congressional candidates are being made until after the primaries. More about the convention sometime later.

Ocean-Going Ship Sails Up Columbia River to Dedicate World's Highest Sealock

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—An unromantic freighter sailed up the Columbia river today to dedicate the world's highest single-lift sealock, cross a mountain between jagged rock walls of a gorge and complete a historic journey to The Dalles, a new port 200 miles from salt water.

The Charles L. Wheeler, 3800-ton coastwise freighter of the McCormick Steamship Co., will rest in the locks of the $51,000,000 Bonneville dam 40 miles east of here with the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Onondaga tonight.

They will enter the upper river early Saturday after dedication ceremonies at the locks and sail under the slim, graceful Bridge of the Gods at Hood river, gateway to the "inland empire" of eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

The Wheeler, first vessel to sail the upper reaches of the Columbia, carries a cargo of salt, sugar and automobiles.

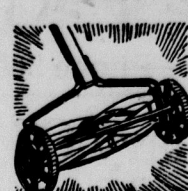

The journey will inaugurate an ocean cargo service made possible by Bonneville dam. The vast power and navigation project will provide a direct link between the land behind the Cascade mountains and the Pacific ocean.

Kills Mother Then Shoots Self

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Renkowitz, 76, was shot and killed by her daughter, Chief of Police R. R. Cheek said, because she "was becoming a great burden" after long confinement in a wheel chair.

Chief Cheek said the daughter, Mrs. Amelia Reinacker, 49, then shot herself through the temple. She was in a critical condition. She had been in ill health.

Sunday Bride
Is Honored
At Party

Complimenting Mrs. Marvin Starry, who, until her surprise wedding last Sunday a week earlier than had been scheduled, was Miss Ellen Frazee, Miss Eunice Spicer and Miss Eleanor Morilla gave a pretty party last evening. The shower had been planned before the wedding, and proved to be of a miscellaneous nature, with many lovely things for the bride's new home at 618½ East Walnut street.

Many amusing games were played at the affair, which was held in the E. H. Spicer home, and resulted in prizes going to Miss Betty Martin, Mrs. Ellsworth Starry, and Miss Lois Pranke.

Guests of the two hostesses were the Mesdames Chris Enia, Clifford Reithner, E. H. Spicer, Ray Hayne, Vern Jenkins, Mildred Morilla, Lester Boyle of Laguna, Arthur Flint of Los Angeles, Howard Frazee of Long Beach, Florence Williams, Ellsworth Starry, Bud Wolfe, Corwyn Frazee, Daniel Muskoft, Harry Manns, and J. A. Conliske of Long Beach.

The Mesdames Carol Smith, Dorothy Drew of Los Angeles, Barbara Reed of Orange, Mary Lou McFarland, Ruth McBurney, Beatrice Granas, Melva Thorpe, Roberta Tutthill, Mary Wallace, Eva Berge, Lois Pranke, Hazel Cartwright, and Betty Martin, with the honoree.

BEACH SUPPER
IS CELEBRATION OF BIRTHDAY

The sixteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Lillian Breaux was celebrated in delightful fashion Wednesday evening when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Breaux of 1103 Lowell street, gave a beach dinner party for her at Corona del Mar.

Following dinner the young guests enjoyed toasting marshmallows around a campfire, storytelling, and singing.

Miss Nellie Colombini went as the special guest of Mr. and Mrs. Breaux, while Miss Lillian's guests were Miss Aileen Smith, Miss Patricia Emison, Miss Virginia Huelskamp, Miss Cecelia Earel, Miss Virginia Campbell, Miss Carol Jenkinson, Miss Myllia Bemis, Jeanne Thompson, Miss W. John Pollard, Dick Kendall, Maurice Young, Henry Cornell, Don Dietler, and Jim Shook.

HANKY SHOWER
GIVEN BY CLUB

Contract club met last evening at Irvine park to honor Mrs. C. E. Hayes, one of their members who is leaving Sunday for Tacoma, Wash., to spend the summer with her people. A steak bake was enjoyed by the group, and the evening was spent visiting and dancing at the park.

A handkerchief shower was presented to Mrs. Hayes in a small suitcase. Present to enjoy the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Olin Turner, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Don Moxley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allemen and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wolven. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Latham, club members who are vacationing at Forrest Home, were unable to attend the steak bake.

ANNUAL PICNIC IS PLANNED

The annual picnic of the Women's Missionary society of the Tustin Presbyterian church will be held July 14 at Irvine park, with Mrs. B. B. McCulla, general chairman, in charge of arrangements. Mrs. C. E. Utt and Mrs. R. R. Carwell will give reports on their recent vacation trips in the east. Surgical dressings will be made for use in Chinese hospitals.

A covered-dish luncheon will be enjoyed at noon. Each woman attending is asked to bring her own table service and a covered-dish. Mrs. C. L. Hallett is president of the society.

FRIENDS TO SEE HER OFF

Miss Mary Knoche sailed this evening for Honolulu on the Lurline following a busy week of preparation for the exciting trip to the Islands, where she will be the guest of a Santa Ana school friend, the former Miss Dorothy Ryan, now Mrs. Herman Busch.

A group of Miss Knoche's friends were present at the dock to bid her bon voyage as her boat pulled out at 5 o'clock. Last night, Miss Knoche, who is the daughter of the Otto Knoche of Irvine, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy at an impromptu dinner and show in the city.

Auxiliary Of Legion Names
Mrs. Duckett

Election of Mrs. Smith Duckett to the presidency of the American Legion auxiliary of Santa Ana, succeeding Mrs. Charles Leimer, was of principal interest at a meeting of that group last night. Formal installation will follow at the next meeting, Aug. 24. Named with Mrs. Duckett were Mrs. Roy Roepke, first vice president; Mrs. Ira Bouldin, second vice president; Mrs. E. F. Matthews, secretary; Mrs. Elmer Sullivan, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. A. J. Anderson, marshal; Mrs. Evelyn Ingham, historian; Mrs. Edna Wood Vornis, musicians; Mrs. Fannie Reeves, chaplain; and Mrs. Robert Sandon, Mrs. Albert Jones, and Mrs. Earl Lepper, executive board members.

They will succeed an executive board composed of the Mesdames Albert Jones, Earl Lepper, Arthur Eklund, Smith Duckett, Margaret Hill, Elmer Sullivan, Marion Dodder, E. F. Matthews, Ralph Mitchell, James Scudder and Harry Pickard, in the same offices.

It was announced that the county council will meet Tuesday in Orange, and Mrs. Roepke, Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Anderson were named delegates.

Mrs. Arthur A. May was elected to membership, and Mrs. Lillian Thorpe, Mrs. A. Jones and Miss Martha Jones were accepted as transfers from Garden Grove.

The auxiliary will share with the local post in staging a picnic July 28 at Santiago park, and it was announced that the quartet will put on an all-day song program at San Fernando hospital July 17.

POPULAR YOUNG
COLLEGIANS
ARE MARRIED

Additional details of the secret marriage June 18 of Miss Ginger Keeler and John W. Lehnhardt, announced yesterday, were learned today as the prominent young people were at home at 2039 South Sycamore street. They will reside there for the summer, planning to drive to Mississippi in August where the groom, an outstanding football star, will enter his last year of college. He was captain of Santa Ana Junior college's team in 1937.

Their marriage was performed in Yuma by the Rev. Pulliam, Baptist minister there, and they were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Vera Manderscheid of Santa Ana.

The popular bride, who attended high school and junior college here, and who was a member of the Moav club in the latter institution, wore a smart grey tailleur with black accessories and an announcement of the wedding was made at an evening party given by Miss Bee Cleveland at her home, 924 Hickory street. Members of a little club were the guests, and spent the early part of the evening in working a jigsaw puzzle which, upon completion, turned out to be two hearts with the bride and groom's pictures and the wedding date thereon.

At bridge later first prize was won by Mrs. Jack Livesey and Miss Nadine Ogden was consoling. Other guests of Miss Cleveland, beside the bride, were Mrs. Neil Parker, Miss Beverly Weindorf, Miss Margie Livesey, and Miss Barbara Doane.

TWO ARE FETED
ON JOINT ANNIVERSARY

Honoring her mother, Mrs. Amelia A. Bailey, and a close friend, Mrs. Effie Silkwood, on their joint birthday anniversary yesterday, Mrs. Naomi Schoenrock entertained at a pleasant dinner party last evening.

The table was centered with golden candles, and in front of each honoree was a beautiful birthday cake, baked specially by C. H. Eaton. Mrs. Bailey's bore 74 lighted candles, while her friend's had 64.

Present at the affair, held at 416 South Birch street, were Mrs. Schoenrock's son Bill, who is working this summer in Long Beach; G. Copley E. Taylor, L. Phillips, Joan Baker, Linda Michaelson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Miller, B. Kopping, W. McPherson, J. Eckhoit, A. Nusan, the two honorees, and the hostess.

CHAPTER WILL HAVE POTLUCK

All members of Santa Ana chapter, Order of Eastern Star, are urged to attend a family potluck supper at the Masonic temple Monday at 6:30 p. m., for it will be the final meeting until Aug. 22. Visitors will be welcome at the affair, of which Leo Cole is general chairman.

Mrs. Rowland
Fetes Miss
Boyd Joplin

Another of the several pleasant courtesies that have been extended this month to Miss Boyd Joplin, who is vacationing from her position of teacher in the schools of Ketchikan, Alaska where she spent the past year, was a luncheon party given yesterday by Mrs. Fred C. Rowland in her comfortable ranch home.

The affair gathered together a group of Miss Joplin's former school friends, and several of the older matrons who have been close friends for many years. They were seated for luncheon at tables decorated in the Hawaiian manner, with effective grass mats, little native figures, and colorful hibiscus blossoms.

Little Miss Bobbie Jo Wilson, granddaughter of Mrs. Rowland, was outfitted in a grass skirt and leis, and both greeted guests and aided in giving the high score prizes to Mrs. Edmund West, Miss Mary Safley, and Mrs. Clarence Crookshank. Miss Joplin received a dainty guest gift.

Guests of Mrs. Rowland were Miss Joplin, Mrs. West, Miss Safley, Mrs. Crookshank, Mrs. Bernard Parker, Mrs. Eugene Hays, Mrs. Robert Wade, Mrs. James Whyte of Claremont, Mrs. Lloyd Shearer, Mrs. Robert Northcross, Mrs. John Tessimann, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, Mrs. E. D. White, and Mrs. Russell Wilson.

MAY STODDARD

Son Gained All Her Money
And Then Forgot
Her

The warmth, love and devotion which issues from the human heart to envelope a loved one, coupled with the inherent faith in the Supreme Creator of human hearts, is the greatest physician of all.

I only wish that the culprit son who has broken his mother's heart and health might read this and profit. The sad tale is recorded in a letter which follows:

Dear Miss Stoddard: My brother does not answer my mother's letters, only at Christmas when he sends a card to her.

He got all of our father's insurance money and the money my mother had so he could learn the medical profession. He forgot to pay it back, even a penny of it, although he has worked steadily with good pay ever since he has been out of school.

My mother's health is broken from worry and sadness over his cruelty to her and because he won't even write or have anything to do with her now that he has finished college and she has no more money left that he can give her.

What would you do in a case like this? Something just has to be done to get my mother out of her state of mind! I have taken her to some of the best doctors and it hasn't helped much. As for myself, I don't want to be a hater.

When we read letters like this one, filled with a mother's willing sacrifice and aspirations for one of her brood, we cannot blame some of the other mothers' sons for doing as they see fit. We are complaining of, for being a bit mercenary and self-centered.

"Naturally I can understand, 'Wondering,' that your heart is filled with bitterness toward your brother's uncalculated cruelty toward your mother. But you must get rid of bitterness if you are to aid in bringing your selfish brother to time. You say you do not want to see him, but this thought only hinders any constructive plan. Your campaign should be aimed at the line of forcing your brother to realize the condition of your mother which is solely of his making. You must, perhaps with the aid of these physicians you have consulted, impress upon him that if he does not come to your mother and ask forgiveness and make up to her and her trust and faith in him that indirectly he will be a murderer, for your mother, his mother, will die of a broken heart.

If his training has made him a physician at heart as well as in name, he will fully appreciate what he is bringing upon his head and the long years of retribution he is piling up for himself in the future!

He's 'sitting on top of the world' over a mother's broken heart. There are some things that even the touch of Midas cannot compensate and that is a guilty conscience, and believe me when I say: If that brother would only make hasty steps in the direction of righting this great wrong, the pangs of conscience will cure all of his future years, and his success or fortune will be comparatively idle things—a sort of victory without valor or glory.

I wish you would send my answer, which is really to him, rather than to you, to him if you have his address. It would give me a sort of satisfaction to know that I have told one convicted, deceitful, selfish, heartless son what I think of him and why!

LUNCHEON GIVEN
BEFORE FAMILY
MOVES AWAY

Complimenting Mrs. Emil K. Jensen, who with her husband will move to Escondido, tomorrow, Mrs. E. A. Schwarm and her mother Mrs. Mae Harwood were hostesses yesterday afternoon at an attractive summer luncheon serving eight in the Schwarm home, 1611 North Durant street.

Multi-colored hues of large dahlias filled the rooms where they were arranged in bowls, many of the flowers accenting a red, yellow and white color scheme. The summer blossoms all came from the beautiful flower garden in the back yard, where numerous varieties are grown.

Guests invited to the last group meeting of friends included Mrs. Olga Wood, Mrs. Fred W. Damp, Miss Eva Herrington, Mrs. H. C. Wollert, Mrs. B. L. Lange, Mrs. Jensen, and the hostesses Mrs. Harwood and Mrs. Schwarm. Mrs. Jensen's father, O. Johnson, and her husband's father, Mr. Jensen, sr., will make their home with the Jensons.

CLUB PLANS
SUMMER EVENTS

Members of the Okey-Dokey club were dinner guests Wednesday night of Miss Ann Sutherland, 118 Mountain View drive, Tustin. Plans were made for two future parties of the group. Mrs. John Sutherland assisted her daughter in hostess duties.

Invited guests were Mrs. Edsel Bierblower, of Garden Grove, and the Mesdames Elsie LaBrow, Irene Piety and Madeline McKnight, of Laguna Beach.

Monday from spending several days at Big Bear.

Miss Marie Fowler of West Tenth street and Mrs. Ethel Kent are spending a week at Modjeska canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jobst are spending a two weeks' vacation at Big Bear.

Mrs. Alberta Blake is spending a month in the Joseph Smith cabin at Forest Home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baker returned from a honeymoon trip through the eastern states and middle west on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Whitford and Mrs. Arno Johnson are visiting relatives in Nebraska, planning to be gone several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Adams accompanied by their son Dearnery and his friend, Melvin Hodson, returned Thursday from a two-week vacation trip to Yosemite where they camped. Both boys took their bikes along and had a number of rides and hikes. Hikes included Bridal Veil falls and exploring trips through the Indian caves.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN HOLD PICNIC

Associated Women of the First Methodist church held an all-day out-door meeting Wednesday at Santiago park, starting at 10:45 a. m. with Mrs. C. E. Lawrence presiding over the Foreign Missionary society. During the business meeting reports of activities at Camp Seely were given by the four girls who went from here, the Mesdames Marjorie and Jean Ann Randall, Ruth Ames and Dorothy Garner.

With Mrs. Clarence Bond presiding over the Associated Women in a body, the new constitution and by-laws were adopted, following their reading by Mrs. Ruth Walker, chairman of the constitution committee.

The new constitution called for the creation of three new offices and an election was held during which Mrs. George Townsend was named second vice president; Mrs. George Ames, third vice president; Mrs. R. J. Matthews, fourth vice president, and Mrs. Warren Freeman, financial secretary.

Sixty-five ladies were present to enjoy the picnic luncheon at noon, following which the Home Missionary society met with Mrs. Henry Guthrie presiding. Mrs. Emma H. Cartwright led the devotional program.

Miss Doris White from Kansas City who has just graduated from training school owned by the Woman's Home Missionary societies, gave an interesting talk.

Reports from the annual convention held in Glendale last week were given by Miss Mary Lamb, chairman of the report committee, whose topic was "Anticipation of the New Year." Mrs. G. Lynwood spoke on "Cultivation of the Field;" Mrs. Emma Cartwright on "Consecration to the Task;" and Mrs. J. Lane on "Realization of Our Accomplishments;" Mrs. Henry Guthrie on "Participation in Service;" and Mrs. George Townsend on "Inspiration."

EMMA WASSUM
AND JOSEPH
PETERMAN WED

The marriage of Mrs. Emma King Wassum, prominent Santa Ana resident of many years, to Joseph Peterman, also of this city, occurred yesterday noon at Las Vegas. Rites were simple and the couple, now honeymooning in the Grand canyon, had no attendants.

After a fortnight spent at the canyon, they will return to Santa Ana for a brief time, where they will be at home at 827 East Fruit street. Later they plan an extended northern trip. Mr. Peterman is connected with the Pacific Pottery company on North Main street.

The bride is a member of many local organizations, among them the Social Order of the Beauceant, the Pythian Sisters, the Ethel club, and Calumet auxiliary to United Spanish War Veterans.

TOROSAS HAVE GARDEN LUNCHEON

Torosa sewing circle met for a lovely luncheon party yesterday at the home of Mrs. Mary Kuhl on Garfield street. Luncheon was served outdoors at a long table under the spreading English walnut tree with lavender and white flowers used as decorations. Mrs. Kate Perkins and Mrs. Nannie Myers were co-hostesses for the day.

Present to enjoy the pleasant afternoon were the Mesdames Eleanor Shaver, Sarah Gorr, Gertrude Butler, Amy Naeff, Gladys McDonald, Martha McKee, Minnie Squiers, Ada Spencer, Ethel Brown, Mary Cooper, Blanche Chandler, Mable Elliott, Eleanor Cozad, Hattie Cozad, Jean Tremble, Alice Tolhurst, Helen Hill, Edith Gray, Nannie Myers, Kate Perkins, Bertie Launsbach, Elizabeth Ray, Irene Lancaster, Martha Vanderwalker, and Mary Kuhl.

A card party to which the public is invited has been planned for next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Hattie Cozad at 638 French street. Bridge and five hundred will be played during the afternoon with prizes for each. A one o'clock luncheon will precede the afternoon of cards.

HUSBANDS ARE SPECIAL GUESTS
OF CLUB

Members of a social club which has been in existence for 18 years had a festive "Husbands' Night" Wednesday evening of this week, meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fluor of Anaheim.

A steak bake was enjoyed out of doors, and when the dessert course was brought in, a beautifully decorated cake was placed in front of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marslie, whose twentieth wedding anniversary it was.

At bridge later Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gard and Mr. and Mrs. William Le Veck were the lucky prize winners.

Present for the jolly evening were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marslie, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. William Maag, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dille, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gard, Mr. and Mrs. William Le Veck, and Mr. and Mrs. Fluor.

NEW GRILL IS INAUGURATED
AT PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Pederson and their daughter Marjorie of 1707 West Eighth street inaugurated their fine new grill and barbecue pit with an enjoyable party one day this week.

Guests shared in a delicious dinner after which croquet and Chinese chess were enjoyed.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Sutherland and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hazen and Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blanding and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Gamble and Gail and Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bracewell, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Burroughs and Carol Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Arno Finster, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Koentopp, and Mr. and Mrs. George Lackaye of Escondido.

OFFICERS OF D. A. V. UNIT INSTALLED

New officers for Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, were installed Wednesday night before a capacity crowd at the K. C. hall.

Serving as installing officer for the ninth consecutive year was William Conley, Los Angeles, past national D. A. V. commander.

Officers to whom he administered the oath were: Virgil Marr, commander; C. C. Triplet, Orange, senior vice commander; Herbert Thwaite, junior vice commander; V. L. Brown, state committeeman; Albert H. Jones, adjutant; John Cleary, chaplain; Floyd H. Mitchell, officer of the day; M. P. Lynch, sergeant-at-arms; Earl B. Hawks, judge advocate; and E. W. Gaddis, Anaheim, and E. M. Denny, Orange, chapter committeemen.

Tribute to Marr's years of untiring effort for the organization was paid by Conley in handing over the gavel. Marr holds trophies from the state and national departments for outstanding membership accomplishments.

Guests of state and national prominence in veterans' circles, introduced by David R. Day, outgoing commander, included C. Bert Allen, past state commander; William R. Nye, past department commander of Iowa; William Kelsey, Veterans' Welfare association; James Sullivan and Glenn D. Hendrickson of the V. F. W.; and D. A. Tohey, commander of the Long Beach D. A. V. chapter, who headed a large delegation from the beach city.

Conley followed the installation with a spirited address on the organization, saying "One thought I desire to leave with you tonight is the keeping of our trust to care for the needs of men and women, unable to be with us tonight due to their disabilities, and carry on for the thousands still confined to hospitals and sick beds at home."

Contest Winner Lands Movie Job

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—A screen career, promised 11 months ago, came true today for Claudia Bonnie Smith of Seattle, Wash.

She won a beauty-personality-voice contest last year in which Producer Harry Sherman was a co-sponsor.

Impressed by her charm, Sherman said he'd find a job for her some time.

Now he's cast her in a western movie, "Silver Trail patrol," and she starts work next Tuesday.

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Here and There With Southern California Artists

By DONALD BUTTON

NOTES ON A JOURNEY

Two days are hardly enough for a trip to Monterey via the San Simeon-Carmel highway and return, but I notice that—

It's lots of fun to go trekking off to Santa Barbara after dinner of a night, and investigate the night life.

In the morning to go on to Lompoc and the fields of larkspur, sweet peas, petunias and nasturtiums.

To pause at Piesasa in Pismo for some of those mouth-watering Pismo clams.

To wind through the narrow streets of old San Luis Obispo and on to San Simeon.

The Hearst "castle" is the nearest thing to a feudal manor one will probably find in this country, standing as it does high above the sea, buttressed and turreted.

But it is there the fun begins, for the new highway at the edge of the sea will several times take your breath. I think you'll find it a new experience to ride so close and yet so high above the blue Pacific!

And so it is, winding and twisting and turning, never far from the ocean until one goes into the redwoods at Big Sur. Ferns and the woods-flowers are quite lovely to behold, and if one loves the forests—

Carmel is always a busy and interesting place, to be explored, probably from the Art Gallery as a starting point.

Three deer among the Monterey and then—Monterey! Truly, a sightseeing and touring heaven: for many of the interesting and important places are well-marked. Here, too, as at a number of places further down the coast, there are some splendid examples of "American Gothic" both in old store and residential buildings. I should like to spend a week in Monterey—just poking!

INLAND

If you like to eat as well as I do, Salinas is the place (name of hotel furnished on application) you get the youngest, tenderest, freshest beans you ever did.

In case of limited time, it's recommended one come back down 101 (all roads lead back into this main north and south highway) as far as Paso Robles for the (famed for its mineral springs) is the next best thing to Coronado in the way of Victorian hotel monuments (the chimneys will take your eye if nothing else does!).

The road from Paso Robles to San Luis Obispo is new construction and through a lovely rolling country. Surprisingly, the most interesting thing (to me) in Obispo is not the Mission, but an extremely elegant "Oriental Art" store.

Magnin's and Santa Barbara's El Paseo's matted beach hats originated there, as do some of the nicest conceits for flower arrangements. Louis' is worth stopping for, coming or going.

: MARY : HAMPTON
Will Help You With Your Clothes Problem. Write Her!

When you talk about big hats down Salinas way right now, it doesn't have a thing to do with either fashion or women. Yet it is Big Hat time—and by edict of the city fathers at that. When men insist upon a fashion for themselves they do it up brown—laws and all! Yet since the tradition of California runs up behind all this, there is much in its favor. For it will soon be Rodeo Day in Salinas.

But they have their eye on the women, too! And while they might be too tallant to make much ado about whether jeans or a skirt were being worn, it is a wise woman who wears her plaid or red satin blouse, her flamboyant neckerchief and anything else to prove her kinship with the old California custom!

You know—being originally an Easter myself—to me all this festive celebration is the most interesting phase of a California year. European cities have their quaint festivals built upon strange-old egg-rolling and wine-making customs—and wear their old native garb. England has the "perly buttons." New Orleans has her cotton carnival and famous Mardi Gras—and California has her great rodeos! So colorful are they, that the fashion world way back to Paris has caught the color and found inspiration. And so New Yorkers, who have never seen a real cow-puncher, wear Mexican boots and jeans this year. Fashion history is in the making—all because of rodeo time.

Advanced Fall Items—I have prepared a special list of the first arriving news about fall. Those of you who would like this mimeographed list at once, send me a fully addressed envelope with 3c stamp in care of this paper and it shall be mailed to you at once. Address all letters to Mary Hampton in care of this paper.

OLD FASHIONED SWEETENER

Strained honey and maple syrup are also delicious sweeteners. But be careful not to sweeten their them to be a thirst-quencher. Garnishes are very important in making summer drinks attractive. Red and green cherries are standbys. Vary them, once in a while, with mint leaves dipped in orange juice and sprinkled with granulated sugar, twists of lemon or orange rinds, or candied fruit strings.

Sprinkle a little coconut over the top of your drink to give it a frosty look. Add a few preserved strawberries or spiced blueberries as intriguing frills. And, once in a while, try candied ginger.

Tinkling ice and the aroma of tea, coffee or fruit juices announces the arrival of that welcome tray of summer thirst-quenchers. Gaily-garnished and passed from an attractive tea bar and service these cooling drinks are a refreshing delight after a motor trip, shopping tour or tennis game.

FRUIT JUICE SUPPLY

Save juices left from the canned and fresh fruits you use in salads or desserts in covered jars.

Most people like their summer beverages very cold—with plenty of chopped ice or ice cubes in the glass. But since melted ice dilutes the drink most beverages must be made extra strong. You can freeze your fruit juices in your refrigerator trays and serve those cubes instead of ice.

To give a fuller flavor you may substitute iced tea for water in many drinks. Ginger ale or charged water, too, will give added sparkle if they are mixed into the drink just before serving time.

COMBINATION FLAVORS

Combine several fruit juices in one drink to get variety in flavor. Apricot, pineapple and grapefruit juices fraternize well. So do grape, orange, pineapple and prune juices. Grapefruit, pineapple, currant and loganberry juices make a delicious concoction. For an exotic drink, mix gooseberry with prune and pineapple. Remember, too, to add a bit of lemon juice—or serve lemon slices—with almost every chilled drink. Mint extract, finely-chopped mint or grated orange and lemon rinds give an appealing flavor contrast.

Sweeten your nectars with the old-fashioned sugar and water syrup you used to serve with pancakes. Make up a quart or two at a time and use it as you need it. Add some bark cinnamon and whole cloves during the boiling process—for a spicy touch.

Manners Are Important On Vacation

By JOAN DURHAM

AP Feature Service Writer
It's the season for summer resorts... for new friendships... new romances.

The seashore, the mountains, out-in-the-open havens everywhere will draw millions of recreation-bound vacationists.

If you want to make the most of your holiday go prepared to have a good time, to divorce your mind from your job and to make the most of your opportunities.

A young-man-about-Manhattan who has done his share of resort-going has this advice.

TO THE LADIES

Don't slight anyone—or matter how unattractive he or she may seem at first. He may turn out to be your one and only. She may be the one who'll introduce him to you.

Don't be a gusher. Be vivacious and ready for fun. But maintain your reserve without seeming to do it.

Aquaplane Experts Show How It's Done As The Season Gets Under Way

By The Associated Press

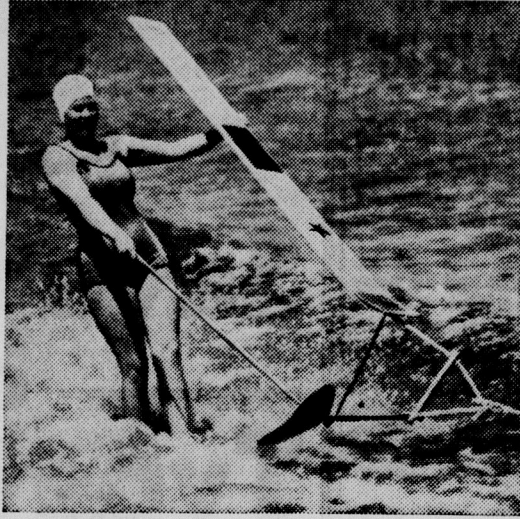

If you do not own a motor boat, you may take an aquaplane ride by following the photos at right.

If you do own a motor boat, you may learn a good deal about aquaplaning. And that will be helpful to you, because you have the first thing you need: access to a boat.

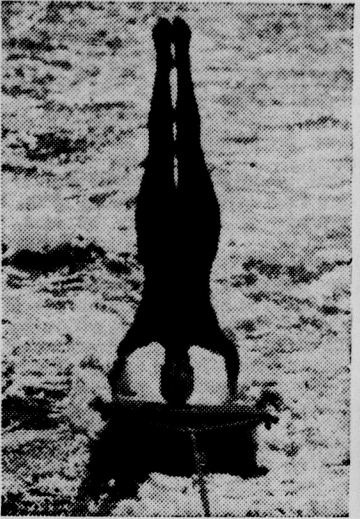

The summer aquaplane season is getting under way—particularly on America's lakes and smooth bodies of water, where most aquaplaning is done. But the pictures at right were taken near Spring Lake, N. J., a popular ocean resort for aquaplaners.

There are two types of aquaplaning, and both are shown: (1) Towed—the board is pulled by the boat; (2) Free tow—the rope is held by the individual.

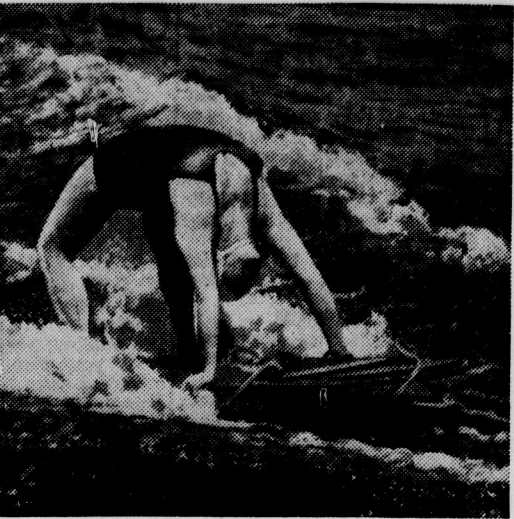

Herbert Welsh, an expert, says for safety's sake to remember one thing: Be sure your boat has an experienced driver. Drivers who stop quickly will throw aquaplane riders in front of the boards, may cause serious injury.

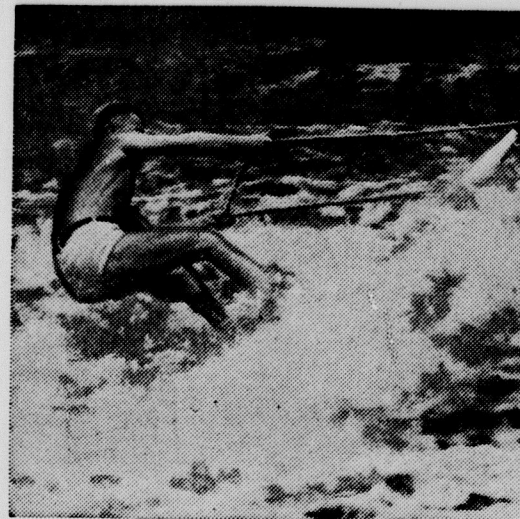

At Spring Lake, Arnette Webster rides and stunts on water skis. Water-skiing is harder than aquaplaning, but, once mastered, is easier in rough water. The boards are narrower and do not have a tendency to bounce out of the water. Not many Americans can perform the stunt Miss Webster is doing here.

Miss Webster stands on her head while zooming across the water. Aquaplaning is a splendid exercise. You will use more muscles in 10 minutes on an aquaplane than in two hours in a gymnasium.

Miss Webster performs a back-bend. Not particularly difficult for an expert, this is about what a back dive is to a good swimmer. If you have access to a motor boat, you may learn the fundamentals of aquaplaning in a two weeks' vacation period. You will not be able to do this stunt, but you will hang on at a speed of 30 m.p.h.

Herbert Welsh, a champion aquaplane amateur, makes a swing. The boat, traveling 40 m.p.h., has just made a sharp U-turn. Welsh, on the end of a tow-rope, travels a much greater distance than the boat does, and therefore his speed is 60 m.p.h. or better. This is a highly-advanced form of a childhood game: Crack-the-whip.

Herbert Welsh has to achieve perfect balance to perform this difficult stunt. There is not much strain on his teeth, however, because of his balance. He has so placed himself on the board that there is the least amount of drag, or water resistance. The board is just skidding over the surface. Welsh is traveling about 30 m.p.h.

CITRUS BELT LEAGUE OLDEST ALLIANCE IN STATE'S PREP SPORT

Few know it, but the Citrus Belt league (which Santa Ana's Saints joined last year) is the oldest prep school athletic alliance in California.

The C. B. L. was formed in 1901 as the Inter-scholastic Athletic league of Southern California.

The only changes have been Covina's unbecoming entrance for two seasons and Santa Ana's most welcome acquisition a year ago.

The Citrus Belt welcomed the Saints with open arms last year, and as luck or something would have it, the Saints came in like a lion, grabbed varsity and sophomore football titles and the varsity track crown during the 1937-38 term.

Apparently unalarmed by Santa Ana's flash of form, most of the Citrus Belt league schools, 'tis said, have laughed off the Saints' temporary dominance as "just one of those things," and have settled down to regain some of their glory next fall.

STARS HEADED UPWARD IN MY OPINION, MAY SOAR TO SECOND SPOT

It may have been the acquisition of Brice Richardson, who has collected five hits in their past two games. It may have been the transfer of Tommy Young to his old post at third base. It may have been the improved pitching of plano-legged Stan Jacobsmeyer. Anyway, whatever it was—

It did Harold Raymond (Doc) Smith's Stars world of good.

The local lads, only one game out of third place in the National Nightball league, have the ability to soar to second place—in this department's opinion—before the Shaughnessy playoffs in September.

ber. At the present writing, they appear stronger offensively and defensively than anyone dared predict in spring training. And strangely enough, they have been playing their best ball away from home.

DOTS AND DASHES, ONE OR TWO FLASHES ON COUNTY SPORTS FRONT

The fellow I erroneously married (on this page) last summer, finally has strolled up the aisle. He's Johnny Lehnardt, '36 captain of the Southern California champion Dons in football, who was married to Ginger Keeler of Santa Ana in Yuma last month. And I'm still looking for the friend who told me they were DEFINITELY married last year.

Biggest puzzle in the Pacific coast league is why it took the Los Angeles Angels, who have skyrocketed to second place, so long to get there. Harry (Truck) Hannah, the guy whose last name reads the same spelled backwards, has a roster studded with talent.

Like horses, all high school athletes in California will have an official birthday beginning Sept. 1, 1939. The age limit will be lowered from 20 to 19 years, although a boy reaching 19 on Sept. 1 or thereafter will be eligible to compete during that school year.

What's happened to H. E. (Dad) Seest, the retired physical education custodian, who promised to send me a mess of fish from Big Bear lake, where he and the muscus are vacationing? . . . P. S. Seest takes The Journal at his cabin near Pine Knott, and I hope he reads this . . . Efforts are being made in Orange county to organize a Sunday baseball club. More about this later.

Harry Marrell of Garden Grove and Ed Hall of Santa Ana, two polo enthusiasts who have been trying to stimulate interest in the sport in Orange county, will be matched against each other at Garden Grove Sunday afternoon.

The local lads, only one game out of third place in the National Nightball league, have the ability to soar to second place—in this department's opinion—before the Shaughnessy playoffs in September.

San Juan Capistrano, Tustin, Yorba Linda and Placentia definitely made their way into the Shaughnessy championship series today, but how these clubs will finish in the standings will be decided Monday night in the final round of the County Nightball league.

Capistrano clinched at least a tie for first place with a 2-1 victory over Yorba Linda at Capistrano last night, while Irvine's Cubs triumphed 6-3 over Tustin. Capistrano's was a dramatic victory. With Luc on second as a result of a double, Arce blasted another two-bagger to center for the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Rodger's home run in the third put Yorba Linda out in front. Capistrano tied it up when Miguele brought Whittier in with a fly to center in the seventh.

Hutchinson Hurls And Bats Seattle To 2-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Freddie Hutchinson, Seattle's 18-year-old pitching sensation, who would just as soon play first base five days a week and pitch on the sixth, used his bat to win his 13th Pacific Coast Baseball league game last night.

After Seattle defeated the San Diego Padres, 3 to 1 on Dick Barrett's two-hit pitching in the first game of a doubleheader, Hutchinson took the mound for the seven-inning second game. With the score tied at 1 all, Freddie went to bat in the first of the seventh with two on base and smashed out a two-bagger. One run scored to give Seattle a 2 to 1 win.

Kayak Carnival Is Slated Sunday At Newport Beach

Newport harbor's annual kayak carnival will be held Sunday afternoon under the direction of R. A. Marsten, Fullerton Junior college instructor.

More than 50 entries are anticipated, with races slated for both bay and ocean. Medals will be awarded in all events.

STARS BATTLE WHITTIER

Hard hit by the loss of their ace pitcher, Harold Burch, who injured his wrist in a July Fourth celebration, Whittier's cellarites, invade the Municipal bowl tonight to test Santa Ana's scoring Stars.

Game-time is 8:15 o'clock.

Pleased with the hitting of Brice Richardson, Manager "Doc" Smith of Santa Ana has shifted the former Orange star to lead-off position, moving Tom Denney to second, and Tom Lacy to third in the batting order. Joe Koral and Bomo Koral, valuable brother combination, will swing fourth and fifth, and Tom Young, 3b; Stan Jacobsmeyer, pitcher; Fred Wiemer, first baseman, and Manager Smith shortstop, swinging in the order.

Recovering from a leg burn, probably will not join the club until the Huntington Beach game here Tuesday night, Smith said.

After clowning for the last two innings with a couple of hurlers who aren't supposed to be hurlers, the Elks had to call in Bruce Harris from shortstop to save their City league softball game with Treesweet at the Municipal bowl last night.

All the damage was done by Darwin Scott and Dave Webb, the Elks' relief hurlers for Harris in the sixth and seventh. The Elks finally won the game, 11 to 8. The Elks' score might have been larger but it was a cinch Treesweet couldn't score that many runs off Harris if he had gone the full route.

Elkiste's International Trucks, who pounded three pitchers for a "football victory" two weeks ago, collected eight hits and three runs off Jack Kratz, released from Alliance Mutual, and it was good enough for a 3-1 victory over M. E. South in the first game of the doubleheader.

With Parreiss Roussos working on the hill for the first time this season in an Elkiste uniform, the Trucks had little difficulty in winning.

THUGS DRUG DELEGATE TO KIWANIS MEET

HOPEWELL, Va. (AP)—Charles T. Peters, 52, Kiwanis club president who disappeared June 27, returned to his home here today and explained that he had been the victim of thugs in San Francisco while attending the Kiwanis international convention.

Peters said he was robbed of $185 after being dragged by occupants of an automobile he thought was a "cousin's" car. He said he drank some coffee with the occupants of the car and remembered nothing more until that night when he found himself in Pasadena, minus his money.

The Hopewell merchant related that he was in a "dazed condition" and that he wandered around for several days before he returned to San Francisco July 1. He said he then set out for home, getting a ride to Billings, Mont., and traveling on a bus the remainder of the way.

GIDEONS TO RALLY IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Gideons will open a state rally here tomorrow by distributing 3000 Bibles at the County General hospital.

Dr. Walter Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction, Mayor Frank Shaw and county supervisors will be among the speakers at the presentation ceremony.

A state organization of Gideons will be formed at the rally, at which C. T. P. Eisenmayer, president of the Los Angeles camp, will preside.

The Gideon organization was formed in Wisconsin in 1899, it was announced and since then has distributed 1,500,000 Bibles, chiefly in hotels.

New Mexico Balks At New L. A. Deal For Boulder Power

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A new contract by which Los Angeles would buy an additional 700,000 kilowatt hours of Boulder dam power annually was termed unsatisfactory to New Mexico today.

T. Hannett, New Mexico interstate streams commission attorney, said:

"The agreement is unsatisfactory to New Mexico, and, I believe, to other upper Colorado basin states. We will protest it but I do not wish to take a more explicit stand until the next upper basin meeting."

The new contract, announced in Washington by counsel for the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light, sets up a new formula for the adjustment of "secondary energy" rates. It provides, briefly, for the payment of one-half mill for each kilowatt hour, with the condition Los Angeles construct a new $13,000,000 distribution system.

L. A. Man Holds Girl by Her Wrists Outside Window 'Til Firemen Arrive With Net

NEW YORK. (AP)—With a leathery-lunged lieutenant shouting instructions, Blonde Muriel Strong, 24, dropped from a sixth floor hotel window into a life net early today.

Her left leg was broken as she crashed into an open French window in her plunge, but her condition was reported not serious.

Detective Charles McGowan said she had exonerated Sidney Smith, 37, of Los Angeles, from whose room she fell.

"Don't hold him," she moaned to McGowan. "I just jumped."

Many of the witnesses of the spectacular rescue coupled Smith with the firemen in credit for saving the girl's life. The Los Angeles man held her dangling by her wrists while the firemen hurried with the life net.

Smith told the police he was a naval supplies salesman. He would not divulge the name of his firm. "You can look me up if you want to," he told Detective McGowan. "But I won't tell you any more."

Smith said he was in New York on a business trip and last night met Miss Strong in the bar of the hotel. They quarreled, he said, and he left and went to his room.

Some time later, he said, she came to his room. He let her in and then went back to bed while she sat on the window sill and continued the argument. Then, he asserted, she started out the window, screaming.

Smith said he jumped out of bed and grabbed her wrists, but was unable to pull her back. Guests in adjoining rooms, awakened by the commotion, added their voices to the uproar. Fireman William McBride of a hook and ladder company next door heard the noise, saw the girl and within 30 seconds had aroused other firemen.

Nine men carried a fire net to the top of the second floor setback of the hotel, while Lieut. Charles McKenna called up: "Put your feet against the building, let go with your hands and push out."

Despite the interference of the open window, Miss Strong landed in the center of the net. She was still conscious when she was taken to a hospital.

Shoots Self Twice, Then Decides He Wants to Live

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—After Stephen L. Gile, 56, manager of a Riverside lumber company, shot himself twice, he decided life was worth living after all, Sheriff Emmet L. Shay reported today.

The sheriff reported that Gile, worried over finances, drove into the hills north of here yesterday, shot himself in the nose and the chest. Then he drove to a service station to summon aid.

Taken to a hospital, Gile was reported in a serious condition from loss of blood from two wounds, neither of which would have proven fatal.

FUR PRICES HELD LOW

"As the country's leading fur stylists and manufacturers are preparing for the opening of the 1938-1939 season a note of cheer comes from the market which will please the women folk," said Olive M. Duling, Santa Ana furrier.

"A survey recently made by the industry reveals average declines in the prices of pelts of as much as 25 per cent and this savings will be reflected in the retail prices of fur pieces and garments; especially in those establishments styling and manufacturing at retail."

"This season quality pelts have reached a point where it is a wise economy for madam to buy the best. Reliable furs of established reputation such as choice fox, mink, sable, fox, beaver, broadtail and Persian lamb give more value than ever before and lend themselves to year-after-year re-styling whereas the precious heritage of furs seldom maintains itself beyond the first year in the cheaper and processed varieties so common on the general retail markets."

Egyptian Prince Asks Permission to Wed Zog's Sister

CAIRO, Egypt. (AP)—Prince Abdul Moneim, 39-year-old second cousin of young King Farouk and heir to a $50,000,000 fortune, has asked the Egyptian monarch for permission to marry Princess Myzejen, 28-year-old sister of King Zog of Albania.

Abdul Moneim, at present motoring in Europe, sent the request by letter. King Farouk has not yet replied.

The prince is the only son of the former Khedive Abbas Helmi Pasha II, whom the British deposed as ruler Dec. 19, 1914, on the nomination of his uncle, Sultan Hussein Kamel.

Princess Myzejen, the fourth of King Zog's six sisters, was born at Mati, Albania, in 1909.

ICKES TO TELL PWA POLICY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today he would announce, "probably in a day or two," PWA's policy in making allotments for public power projects. A drive in congress to prevent use of PWA funds for projects designed to compete with existing private power facilities collapsed last month when senate majority leader Barkley (D., Ky.) made a statement of administration policy on the subject.

The President, Barkley said, did not intend to approve any PWA allocation for a public power project until the existing private power company involved had failed to accept a "fair and reasonable" offer to buy its facilities.

Several project applications have been held up pending preparation of a formula by which PWA will determine what constitutes a "fair and reasonable" offer.

EMPLOYMENT GAINS SHOWN BY SURVEY

OBSCURE
FULL EFFECT

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK.—Re-hired workers answering calls to return to jobs in mill and factory crossed paths today with vacation-bound employees along the nation's industrial highways and byroads.

A nation-wide sampling of trade and manufacturing centers indicated scattered employment gains since business barometers began to creep forward recently and a leaping bull market upset Wall Street's traditions of summer quiet.

Attracting attention as counter-seasonal tendencies in certain industries rather than for the extent of the increase, the gains lifted factory job figures by thousands in some places and left observers wondering whether the employment tide had turned after ebbing since last summer.

REOPENINGS OBSERVED

Shutdowns for vacations or inventory reduction obscured reopenings and enlarged working schedules. Not much net change for the time being was apparent. But gains in textiles, shoes, building and other lines showing the most pronounced inclination to move ahead were watched in the financial district as heralding possibly wider increases by autumn.

From steel towns came word observers were expecting more jobs when mills come out of early July shutdowns.

Government efforts to speed spending for housing, public works and shipbuilding were counted a front-rank factor in the employment outlook in construction and allied industries.

Estimates of the national industrial conference board, a private research organization, indicated more than 4,000,000 workers would have to be returned to jobs in industry to regain levels at which recovery stopped last year.

Its latest figures, for May, put unemployment at 10,310,000, compared with 6,192,000 a year before.

NEW ENGLAND GAINS

Heavy forward buying in cotton cloth and key raw material markets the last two weeks were taken as foreshadowing production gains. Temporarily the buying served in part merely to clear away unsold goods rather than lift factory and mine output. At some mills first effects were noted in the stretching of work weeks.

New England felt especially resumption of buying in consumer goods, like shoes and textiles. Six shoe factories in the Brockton, Mass., area put about 5000 on a full-time work week.

Several New England textile mills were enumerated as expanding or resuming operations, including three large woolen plants at Lawrence, Mass., giving work to about 3000.

Others were said to be planning increased operations.

Wall street, scene of the most raucous mid-year clamor to buy, pointed its enthusiasm into the future. A stock exchange committee was seeking jobs for more than 5000 brokerage employees who were laid off when trading was shrinking to the smallest in 20 years.

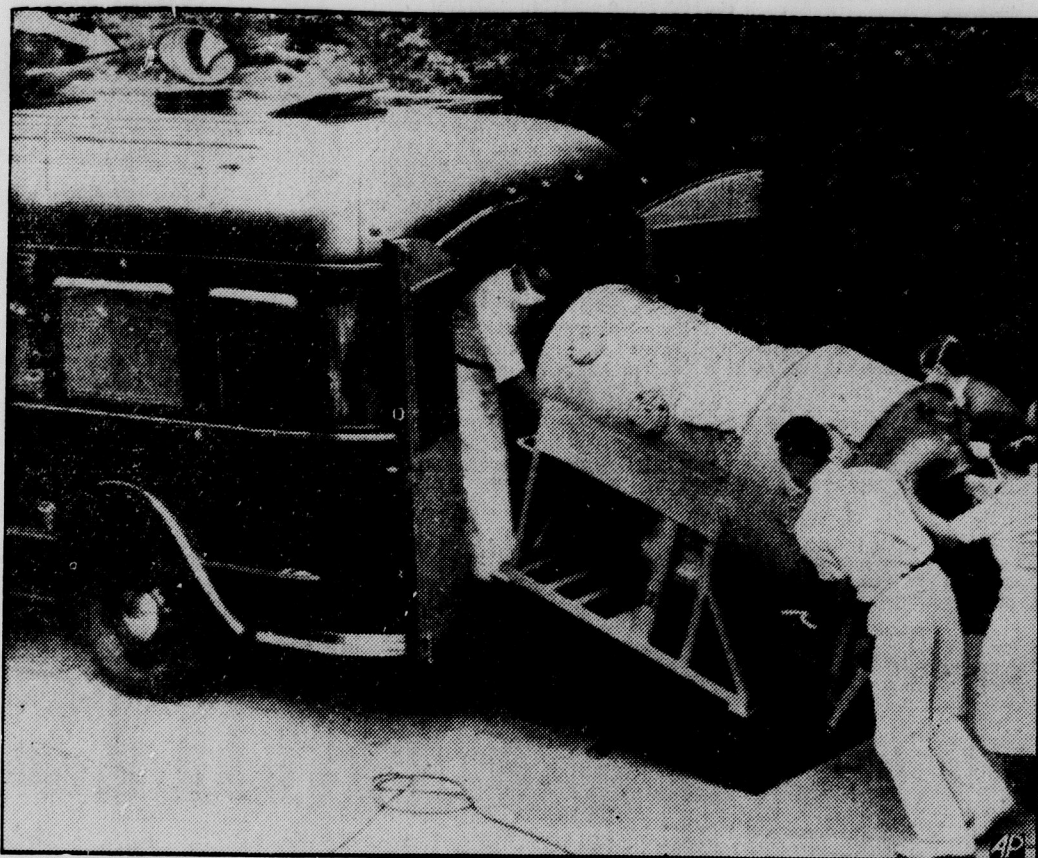

TOLEDO BENEFITS

Machine and motor centers around the great lakes seemed to be nourished mainly by hope of re-employment gains later.

However, Toledo reported electric autolite, a motor accessory maker, called 700 men back to work, and would take more for the assembly line start next week. Spicer manufacturing, also a motor parts unit, called for 1500, and Libby-Owens-Ford glass put 800 back to work in the last week.

Expansion in clothing manufacturing in Rochester, N. Y., and elsewhere, bringing thousands back of jobs, was regarded as largely a seasonal trend, accentuated by optimism in the primary textile markets. The Cleveland chamber of commerce noted a

9 CHILDREN TO SHARE ESTATE

Nine children of Mrs. Mary P. Kraemer of Placentia, who died June 29, will share equally in her estate, worth more than $50,000, according to terms of a will filed today for probate in superior court.

Mrs. Kraemer inherited $49,195 from the estate of her husband, Benjamin Kraemer, at his death last September. Her heirs also received substantial legacies from their father, whose estate was valued at $105,000. The will was filed by S. B. Kaufman and Robbie Anderson, Anaheim attorneys who have represented the other Kraemer estates.

Samuel P. Kraemer of Placentia, a nephew, was named executor of Mrs. Kraemer's will. He thus has been named executor of three Kraemer estates within the past year, including that of Benjamin Kraemer and that of his father, Samuel.

The will, dated Dec. 7, three months after the death of Mrs. Kraemer's husband, named as heirs Mary Kraemer Reis, 41, Whittier; Emma Kraemer Willis, 40, Placentia; Gladys Kraemer Allec, 37, route 4, Anaheim; Lucy Kraemer Coniglio, 34, Placentia; Benjamin Kraemer, 32, Placentia; Louise Kraemer Heffner, 31, Santa Ana; Anna Kraemer Hathaway, 29, Norwalk; William Kraemer, 25, Placentia; and Rosabelle Kraemer, 23, Placentia. They received shares ranging from $7805 to $15,375 from their father's estate.

TRANSFUSION
FOR DILLINGER

Another blood transfusion was given Clyde Dillinger at the Orange county hospital last night, as the condition of the 30-year-old cousin of the late gangster, John Dillinger, gradually grew worse. A crisis is expected either today or tomorrow by Dr. Ralph E. White, attending physician.

Charles Calhoun, 28, is being held in the county jail on charges of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder in Midway City June 26, when Dillinger was shot through the lower abdomen by a rifle.

FARM BUREAU
FIGHTS MORE
ADVERTISING

Opposition to pleas for an increase in tax rates for county advertising was registered yesterday by directors of the Orange county farm bureau. Present advertising funds, directors declared, should not be increased.

The board also opposed a proposal to extend building, plumbing and electrical requirements in the unincorporated area of the county. The 1933 ordinance, later amended, controlling such matters in certain parts of the rural area, is sufficient, the directors said.

Ray Marsile, Tustin, was appointed recreation chairman for the bureau, making him a director.

S. W. Stanley, Tustin, was appointed chairman of the farm bureau news committee. Mrs. H. H. Gardner, Orange, chairman of the home department, and J. A. Porter, Orange, chairman of the citrus department, were seated as directors.

Resignation of L. A. Bortz, Orange, as director and member of the tax committee was accepted, and a nominating committee will name his successor. Bortz was required by farm bureau by-laws to resign since he is a candidate for fourth-district supervisor, and candidates for public office cannot hold positions in the bureau.

Farmers were urged to make special efforts to attend school budget hearings, to be held in districts within the next few weeks. "Farmers and other heavy taxpayers," said F. C. Latham, chairman of the tax committee, "are officially interested in school budgets. It is urged that every member attend the meetings and lend his support to an economical and efficient administration."

Luncheon was served to the directors and officers of the home department by the Anaheim home department, with Mrs. A. A. Fischer as chairman.

Project Given Approval

Approval of a $130,000 PWA project for lining with cement the East Tustin storm drain was announced today in telegrams from Senators W. G. McAdoo and Hiram Johnson.

Chairman Willard Smith of the board of supervisors said the senators had wired him that the project had been approved. The storm drain, extending from Santa Fe and Bryan avenues to Newport road near Irvine boulevard, is designed to carry storm waters away from the East Tustin district. The work will be done by PWA on contract.

MISSIONARY
SAILS SEPT. 1

Planning to sail Sept. 1 for Soochow, China, where he will conduct the American mission of the Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. H. W. Worley, missionary under the Santa Ana Methodist church, is en route to Santa Ana from New Haven, Conn.

He will be accompanied as far as California by Mrs. Worley, who is a sister of Mrs. O. Scott McFarland, and their two children, Jimmie and Clara Jean.

Dr. Worley has just received his Ph. D. from Yale university after two years of graduate study. At the same time he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from his own college, Ohio Wesleyan.

INSURANCE FOR $2000 SUBJECT FOR SUIT HERE

Suit for $2000 on a life insurance policy was on file today in superior court by Martin A. Koop against the Alliance Mutual Life Insurance association of Santa Ana.

Koop claims the insurance firm refuses to pay the $2000, value of a policy written by it on the life of Frank J. Kotlenger in June, 1934. Mr. Kotlenger died Nov. 11, 1937, the plaintiff says, but the insurance firm refuses to pay off the policy.

The company's refusal to pay, the plaintiff says, is based on the fact that Mr. Kotlenger did not apply in person for the policy. Despite that fact, the complaint alleges, the firm kept sending bills when premiums were due and kept accepting payment on premiums, despite an offer—rejected by the insured—to cancel the policy.

Koop, heir to the Kotlenger estate, demands judgment for $2000, plus 7 per cent interest from the date of death.

JOB HUNT IN RHYME
MERCHANTVILLE, N. J.—Miss B. Elizabeth Horner, just out of college and in search of a job, inserted this ad in a newspaper: "College grad, young and gay. Likes to play, but must make hay. Will mind the baby, sling the hash. Most anything to earn the cash."

RECORD
NEW YORK.—Chinese children are the best behaved of any racial group in New York.

The proof: Only one case of juvenile delinquency has been reported in eight years among the 3000 children of Chinatown.

Froud Chinese leaders explained why to a group of inquiring legislators:

"1. Among the young the most severe punishment is to 'lose face.'"

"2. The child is taught reverence for his parents."

CAST KEYS UPON WATERS

Missing Doctor Feared to Have Been Addict's Victim

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The disappearance of Dr. Joseph K. Swindt, 32, while he was here from China last Saturday night was investigated by police today on a theory he may have been a drug addict's victim.

Detective Lieut. Joseph Filkas said the physician had two medical bags with him, but only one was found last Wednesday in his abandoned automobile, and that had been ransacked. The car was discovered in a local parking lot.

Sheriff's Deputies Harry R. Heap and Perry Green came here from San Bernardino county at the request of Mrs. Swindt to aid in the search for her husband.

$20,000 FUR ROBBERY

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Two robbers, who seized $20,000 worth of furs on the way to a film studio, were hunted by police today.

Albert and Ben Tietelbaum told officers that the furs, packed in two suitcases, were taken from their car at gunpoint when they halted at a traffic light last night.

The furs were said to have been used in a picture.

Court Says Mother Doesn't Have to Be Map Expert.

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—A woman does not have to be a geographical expert to be a good mother, says Judge Joseph G. Tummillo.

He awarded Mrs. Helen Jansen custody of her 3-year-old son after she testified she didn't know where Pittsburgh was and couldn't tell the boy when he asked.

The child's father, Harry, 24, had contended Mrs. Jansen was "not intelligent enough to raise the boy."

1-MAN STREET CARS UPHELD

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—San Francisco's city ordinance outlawing the one-man operation of street cars was upheld in a unanimous decision of the United States circuit court of appeals.

Judge William Denman, who wrote the opinion in a case against the Market Street Railway company, asserted the belief that two-man operation of street cars was safer than one-man operation, and that therefore the city had the right under its police power to pass such an ordinance.

Children Invent Chicken Racket in Pennsylvania Town

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Coatesville children have a new chicken racket.

A housewife discovered one of her hens missing. Later a boy appeared, saying he had caught the hen several blocks away. The woman gave him a dime.

The next day all her chickens disappeared. Then, one by one, they returned in the arms of small children, each asking a 10-cent fee.

right under its police power to pass such an ordinance.

AUTO STICKER LAW ENFORCED

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Windshield sticker regulations will be strictly enforced Chief E. Raymond Cato of the state highway patrol declared in orders to officers to advise all motorists to use discretion in the use of the stickers.

"The motor vehicle code specifically states that no sticker or stickers shall cover an area in excess of seven inches by seven inches in the lower corner of the windshield farther removed from the driver."

MARKET COMMENT

Introducing Mr. Louis McCann

Genial owner of the Broadway Fruit Stand, Mr. McCann came here with his wife and son from San Diego and vicinity about a year ago and purchased the Broadway which is rated one of the largest businesses of its kind in Orange county and since that time has increased the business so much that several new employees have been added which means more Orange county citizens being put to work.

Well, it's happened, folks. That much talked of wedding took place last Sunday. The groom, genial Charley Miller, owner of Charley's Cafe, has someone that gets the last say-so now. Charley's back on the job, fit as a fiddle and ready for to serve you.

Louis McCann, of the Broadway Fruit Stand, McCann's, and his family and Charlie Eaton, of the Bakery Eatons, and his family returned from the glorious Yosemite valley. They reported a GRAND time. Charlie has been looking around here the last few days as if he wanted to lie down under some of those tall shady trees... maybe he outdid himself up there in that high altitude.

Did you notice Banner Produce go to town last week-end? Boy, six people almost got killed in the rush, a couple of fruit hot prices. Ray Williams apologizes to all those poor unfortunate almost caught on fire with the stands (also the cash registers) notes who had their feet gently stepped on in the mad rush to snap up the bargains. Ray says not to worry, he'll give some more red hot prices this week-end, but to come prepared for a lot of people, for they know a good buy when they see one.

Even with all the rush and hubbub going on down here lately, there seems to be something missing. Some mad flurry, a fellow that doesn't care how much shoe leather he wears out, just so he can walk faster, and jump quicker, than anyone else. Maybe he is running, flitting rather, from one mountain top to the other to sell an ad. You've guessed it, he's that red haired ball of fire that haunts the place.

Speaking of burning up shoe leather, we guess that he knows where to take his shoes in the Grand Central to have them made like new in a very short while.

Debs, take a note! Fred Tripplett is really on the loose now, and how! Friend wife is taking a long vacation, motoring with a friend up to Yellowstone Park, then to Nebraska, and down into the Lone Star state. The thing that worries Fred is that she won't tell him just when he can expect her to return. That makes it bad! Yow-sah!

Speaking of marketers being fraul-less, Jim Hird, of the Broadway Fruit Stand Hirds, has a wife in the mountains, vacationing. We don't mean that to sound as if Jim is a bigamist, it's just poetic license, or sumpin'.

Here's a tip to Orange county housewives! Money spent in the Grand Central Market stays at home. All 30 merchants are strictly independent, are American citizens, and are your neighbors. Furthermore, when lower prices are possible, Grand Central merchants are the first to offer them.

The Grand Central Fish and Poultry market remained closed Tuesday, July 5, and took on a new coat of paint while "Pop" Jeanes sailed forth in his cruiser and surrounded a goodly supply of fresh seafood for this week-end.

Bob, who deals out the smokes, cold refreshments, etc., has devised a new game that occupies most of his spare time, and there isn't much of that as he generally always has customers lined up at his counters. The new game looks like a combination of checkers, parchisa and a crossword puzzle. Well, anyway, you can find out just what it is like by asking Bob. And, the beauty of the game is that you don't have to have any of those special playing boards, you can make it yourself (maybe you can sort of make up the rules yourself, too, when you get in a pinch).

Did you ever stand in front of Arthur's Do-Nut Shop when they were making those dee-licious fresh do-nuts. We will make a slight monetary wager that you can't stand there long, inhaling that wonderful aroma without making a purchase!

PASSPORT TO PERIL

by DAVIS DRESSER

CHAPTER XXXVI
JIM stood rigidly, staring at the pistol leveled at his heart, waiting grimly for it to move, dared not make a move, dared not risk leaping at Strade, for fear a shot would hit Vara.

No, he must just stand here and die like a man... Suddenly, he saw a face appear in the doorway behind Strade! Then, another! Two men in the khaki uniforms of the police! His startled expression evidently registered with Strade, for the man visibly stiffened, the pistol wavered.

Then, things began happening so fast that Jim's head was in a whirl. Strade's pistol went off—but not before one of the policemen had leaped forward and grabbed his wrist, pushing it toward the ceiling. Shouts filled the room and, in the twinkling of an eye, other khaki-clad men, armed with rifles, came pouring in. They surrounded Strade, poking him with their guns, backing him into a corner, and disarming him.

Jim stood blinking dazedly, speechless with surprise and immense relief. He felt Vara sway against him, and grabbed her in his arms. "Oh, Jim..." she gasped faintly, clinging to him.

Strade, meanwhile, had flown into a fury, his face flaming with rage. "What is the meaning of this!" he demanded. "I catch two thieves in my office, and have succeeded in capturing them, when the blundering police come rushing in and seize me! Arrest them!" he shouted, pointing at Jim and Vara.

The commanding officer looked at him coldly. "You are Senior Strade, are you not?" he asked in English. "Yes! And this is my office. And—" "Then you are the man we want," the officer cut him off. "You are under arrest—for murder." He clapped a pair of handcuffs on Strade's wrists.

"You're crazy! You've got the wrong man! You—" the officer told him men.

AS STRADE was roughly hustled away, Jim and Vara eagerly stepped forward. What had happened? Of whose murder was Strade accused? "The murder of James Long, in Miami, Florida," the officer said tersely, then turned on his heel and stalked off after his prisoner. Jim and Vara stared at each other speechlessly.

Then, quickly, they gathered up the revolutionary plans they had found in the safe, and hurried out to find Zach and Don Jose and tell them the incredible news. "We probably won't need these plans now!" Jim told Vara exuberantly, as they hastened down the street. "With Strade under arrest, accused of Long's murder, the revolution will probably collapse like a bubble!"

Zach and Don Jose were waiting on the corner where they had been left. They could scarcely credit their ears when they heard what had happened. Overjoyed, they wrung Jim's hand, congratulating him. Then, they wrung each other's hands, exclaiming like Jim, that the revolution was now done for.

"And now, we must hasten to police headquarters to learn what has caused this development," said Don Jose, excitedly. Then he hesitated, looking at Jim. "But no—go to my home and await us there." "We are not sure, yet, of your exact status. Until Senior Webb and I learn the full circumstances, it would be best for you to keep out of sight, as planned. You and Vara go to my home and await us there."

WHEN Jim and Vara reached Don Jose's house, they were greeted by a wide-eyed Dolores. "Oh, Jim!" she cried, seizing his hand. "I am so verree glad to see you! You have been in such trouble!"

Jim smiled, and bent down to kiss her forehead. "Well, Dolores," he said happily, "I think my troubles may be over. And he told her the news. "But that was wonderful! Wonderful!" she exclaimed ecstatically. "It wasn't until an hour later that Zach and Don Jose at last returned. They had been to police headquarters, and from there had gone to see various government officials, including the President. "A cable from America was received by the government tonight," they told Jim, "about the same time you were being released under the President's secret orders. It said that you had been absolved of the murder charge and should be set free. It requested that Strade, instead, should be seized and held. So the government here put through quick orders to the police to institute a search for Strade. The two men in Miami, under questioning by the police there, had broken down and confessed to the murder, naming Strade as the man who had paid them to put Long out of the way."

Vara suddenly broke in. "You say two men in Miami confessed?" she exclaimed delightedly. "Oh, then it worked—it worked!" Every one stared at her in bewilderment. "What worked?" asked Jim. "My cable!" She turned to him excitedly. "After you were imprisoned, Jim, I was desperate. And I remembered the names of two men in Miami to whom Strade had written from New York in regard to James Long. The letters did not, of course, say anything about murder—unless they were written in code—but I thought these men might know something. So I sent an anonymous cable to the Miami chief of police, suggesting that they be questioned..."

"You did that!" exclaimed Jim. "But why didn't you tell us?" "I was afraid," she said. "That nothing would come of it—and I did not want to raise false hopes..."

"Oh, Vara!" Jim caught her in his arms. "You wonderful person!" "For the second time, she comes to the rescue," said Don Jose, beaming. "And saves both you, Jim, and Costanagua!"

COSTANAGUA, as well as Jim, was indeed saved—as the next few days proved. The news of Strade's arrest for Long's murder, and of Jim's release, spread through the country like wildfire, and, as Jim had predicted, the revolution went up in smoke. Zach and Don Jose had turned over to the government the papers taken from Strade's safe, and certain military measures were taken as a result of the information thus obtained—but the measures proved unnecessary. The revolution was as dead as a doornail.

A week after the eventful night of Strade's arrest, Zach and Don Jose and Jim and Vara sat in the parlor of Don Jose's house, over after-dinner brandy, happily discussing the outcome of their adventures. "Well, Jim," said Zach, contentedly now that all the excitement is over, "hoping we can persuade you to stay on here in Costanagua. Don Jose and I conduct a small business here, and we'd like nothing better than to have you with us."

"And I'd like nothing better than to stay. But," Jim reached for Vara's hand—"it depends on Vara. You see... she has promised to marry me and... well, my future is up to her! If she'd be happy here..."

Vara's eyes were smiling into his. "I'd be happy, Jim," she told him softly, "wherever you are."

He leaned over and kissed her and, presently, with Zach and Don Jose smiling paternally after them, they rose and strolled out into the moonlit garden.

A New High in Vote-Buying

The congressional committee set up to inspect elections in this year of super-spending and lending already has something of a task laid out for it in the Pennsylvania primaries.

In that election one group of Democratic candidates (defeated, by the way) spent $481,376, and in behalf of the Republican nominee for United States senate was spent the similarly huge sum of $470,012.

As government takes more and more from the private purses of its citizens to add to the public spending-lending fund, the wrangle over places on the spending-lending board will ever become hotter, less ethical, more sordid.

Patronage involving sums never before dreamed of has become the ordinary thing in national political affairs. It is only to be expected that politicians and political groups, suspicious of each other and eager for spoils, will resort to unpleasant and perhaps even unscrupulous tactics to place their candidates in positions of power and control.

The congressional elections committee should study not only individual elections but general trends and possible results, in the light of the new "open-treasury" policy of the United States.

Harry Warner vigorously condemns other major producers for the weak summer pictures. Well, well, well! Are the summer pictures weaker than the winter pictures?

Bad Judgment, Barbara

Barbara Hutton, the little rich girl with a taste for foreign husbands, seems to have slipped up in changing her nationality.

A short time ago she condescended to return to her native America just long enough to renounce her citizenship—which didn't add to her popularity in the America which gave her her riches.

But now that she's a full-fledged Dane, and has tired of her current husband, she finds that if she gets a divorce from her current she will have to get it in Denmark—and European law isn't nearly as kindly in protecting the interests of women as are our statutes. Barbara looks as though she is in for plenty of trouble before she and her count go their separate ways.

Furthermore, the state department says it isn't going to let Barbara immediately regain the citizenship she renounced.

The whole affair is a mess—but perhaps some good will come from it if it shows Barbara and other expatriates that American citizenship is a mighty precious thing, not lightly to be thrown away.

Governor Merriam's old pal, Samish, seems to be one man who never lets his left hand know what his right hand is doing. But consider the enormous memory Arthur claims.

Napoleon Rides Again

The Russian revolution may yet develop its Napoleon. As its purge swings ever nearer and nearer to the necks of the controlling group, the similarity to France's bloody tragedy becomes more marked.

And if, in the end, all of those leaders who generated and nurtured the original revolutionary idea are killed off, and some opportunist steps in to take control of the country for himself, his heirs and assigns forever, why, history will be merely repeating itself.

What would happen to such an usurper would be still another gory chapter of a nation's anguish.

The lesson in Russia's plight and France's history, for other nations and especially for the hot-heads within them, is that the intent of the originators of such cataclysms never succeeds, the nation involved is never healed of the terrible scars left when neighbor kills neighbor, and the hot-heads who seek to solve political and economic problems with blood are usually among the first sent to the cemetery.

President Roosevelt has issued orders placing under civil service 100,000 employees in jobs created by the New Deal. We suppose a few of them were Democrats.

From London Town

The "holiday-makers," as they call picnickers in England, present themselves, their neighbors and their nation the same problem that they do here in the matter of roadside litter. Mention of that problem is made in a very sedate report of proceedings of a joint committee of the two houses of parliament.

"Lord Idlesleigh, however," said the report, "has noted a great improvement with regard to roadside litter in the last few years. In Saxony, Switzerland, people who might wish to carve their names on trees in famous beauty spots can now record their travels less obtrusively by buying little name-plates to put on their sticks. Lord Idlesleigh suggested that something similar might be done here."

It's a jolly good idea his lordship has there, and if he's able to make anything of it in England, America will be pleased to copy. The roadside litter, everyone seems agreed to suppose, we'll have with us always.

Also, 'tis to be noted that General Johnson feels that he could have improved upon the battle of Gettysburg as fought.

Nation's Capitol

By RAYMOND CLAPPER

WASHINGTON — Following a month's exhaustive study of underlying factors, inner council economists have reached the following confidential conclusions regarding the business outlook:

1. That the downward spiral is now definitely in reverse and that recovery will come much sooner than they had previously predicted—probably by fall.

2. That the pace of recovery, once it does come, will be rapid rather than slow.

3. That the pattern of the current climb out of the recession is following the lines of similar situations in 1921, 1924 and 1932, when the production of non-durable (consumer) goods started upward while the production of durable goods still lagged.

The New Dealers base their cheery report on these determining factors:

1. With the exception of the railroads, the financial structure of business generally is sound. Banks and insurance companies are untouched and farmers have suffered no serious impairment, despite the decline in agricultural income.

2. Consumer spending has been relatively well maintained; first, because individual resources have not been exhausted on a wide scale as they were in 1931-33; and second, because consumers have not developed a hoarding complex, due chiefly to the existence of the federal deposit insurance system, eliminating fear of bank failures.

3. The localization of major declines in manufacturing, mining and related industries—which account for more than half of the rise in unemployment since last September—prevented the spread of a panic psychology throughout the country.

4. Liquidation of the large, high-priced inventories of consumer goods that were on hand when the recession developed last fall. Shelves generally have been well cleaned out and with demand increasing, buyers are placing new orders with manufacturers.

5. High prices, which played a leading role in precipitating the recession, have been materially reduced, thereby stimulating both retail and wholesale buying.

The economists placed great stress on the last item. As long as prices continued high, they declared, buying continued to decline, but as soon as prices began to tumble, buying began to revive. This explains why the price-cut announcement of U. S. Steel was received with such jubilation by the White House group.

Inner council analysts give three reasons for their prediction that recovery, once under way, will be rapid:

1. The government's new spending program is boosting relief and public works expenditures from around $150,000,000 a month to more than $300,000,000 a month.

2. The steady growth of foreign trade—due, incidentally, chiefly to war purchases.

3. Stepping up of production by many manufacturers in order to beat the gun on the wage-hour law, which becomes operative October 24. On that day its mandatory 25-cent-an-hour, 44-hours-a-week scale becomes effective and many plants, in order to take advantage of present lower production costs, are increasing their output.

The economists emphasize that only slight improvement, if any, will be shown in the over-all industrial indexes during the next few months. This will be due, they say, to the fact that the durable goods industries will be much slower in picking up than the consumer goods industries, thus holding down the general index level.

Real key to the situation will be developments in the consumer goods industries. Records of previous economic collapses show that the one unfailing signal of impending recovery was an upturn in consumer goods production. And the experts have informed Roosevelt that this now is definitely under way.

Steel Prices
At the root of the far-reaching price cut announced by U. S. Steel was a case of sheer necessity.

"Big Steel" found itself losing business to competitors who were underselling it with customers that U. S. Steel had had for many years. Within a few weeks, U. S. Steel lost four big contracts to Bethlehem steel, which had underbid it.

One of these customers was Rockefeller Center, in New York, for which U. S. Steel previously had supplied all structural steel building material.

Whatever the cause of the price cut, it was a signal victory for Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson and Dr. Leon Henderson, inner circle economist, who had vigorously advocated such a step last winter and as a result, received a sound spanking from the industry.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN.—This trip is starting out to be the greatest rose-pinning expedition ever undertaken by a president of the United States.

It will also be combined with that ancient game, played at children's parties throughout the country, called "Pin the Tail on the Donkey."

In Kentucky the president is playing both games. He is pinning the rose firmly and conspicuously on the lapel of Senator "Dear Alben" Barkley; simultaneously he is giving the donkey's tail to Governor "Happy" Chandler.

In some states, the game is going to be so hazardous that Roosevelt might as well play it blindfolded, but in Kentucky his eyes are wide open and there never has been a moment's doubt about his choice. For aside from being genuinely grateful to "Dear Alben" for his support as democratic leader of the senate, Roosevelt has nursed a grudge against Chandler ever since Happy's ebullient claim that he had balanced Kentucky's budget while the federal treasury was losing money.

Roosevelt once took Happy to task for this. "If it is true that you have balanced your budget," he shot back at Chandler, "it is only because of the millions of dollars the federal government has poured into Kentucky."

Fatherly Talk
The Roosevelt peevish against Chandler deepened last winter when he asked the young governor to the White House for a fatherly talk.

"You are still a young man," he said, "and have your whole political future before you. Barkley, on the other hand, has served in congress for many years. He is a liberal and able senator and has done much for his state. He is entitled to re-election, just as you would be if you had his record."

"You, on the other hand, still have several years of your governorship to fill out. Why not do the sporting thing and stay out of this race?"

But Happy was not impressed. "If I remember correctly, Mr. President," he retorted, "you were quite a young fellow yourself when you upset the apple-cart in the New York legislature and prevented 'Blue-eyed' Billy Sheehan from going to the senate. Frankly I don't see what my age has to do with running against Barkley."

The president laughed, but underneath he didn't like it.

Judge Logan
Only two or three people know it, but the entire Kentucky primary fight could have been avoided if Dear Alben had been willing. The solution was to give Senator Marvel Logan a federal judgeship, thereby letting "Happy" Chandler fill Logan's place.

Logan wanted to be a judge. Roosevelt was ready to make him one, but Barkley was the stumbling block. He did not want to be a party to any move whereby Chandler would come to the senate.

Note—Barkley's greatest ambition is to control the Kentucky delegation at the 1940 convention, get its vote to help nominate his presidential campaign.

Egg-Dancing
After leaving Kentucky, the president faces some primary fights where he will have to tread as skillfully as the blindfolded egg-dancer. Here is the itinerary:

Memphis, Tenn.—If he stops, Roosevelt will pin the donkey's tail on Senator George "Marble" Berry, on whom he is very sour and who hasn't a chance to win. The president has no preference among the other candidates.

Little Rock, Ark.—Here, however, Roosevelt has a definite preference for Mrs. Hattie Caraway, and will give her the rose, if he stops. Representative John Mc-Clellan, her anti-New Deal opponent, has kept the wires hot pleading his cause, but got nowhere.

Oklahoma City.—Here is where the real egg-dancing begins. Personally the president is fond of Senator Elmer Thomas, now waging a difficult fight for re-election. Also he does not relish the idea of having blatant, grand-standing Congressmen Comer Smith, ex-Townsendite, blowing off steam in the senate.

California.—William Gibbs Mc-Adoo will be waiting at the Nevada border for the man he helped make president at Chicago in 1932, and the two will travel almost the length of the State together, part of the way by motor. McAdoo will get a large and luscious rose, and the president will make sure that everyone in the Golden State realizes it.

Science News

DETROIT.—(By Science Service)—Nearest ways of helping deaf children get along in the world will be given serious consideration here, as educators today opened the meeting of an association with a very long name—the American Association to Promote the Teaching of Speech to the Deaf.

Educators give the hearing news that it is far less tragic for a child to have defective hearing now than a generation or two ago. So much more can be done.

Statistics show 1,600,000 children in the United States, or six out of 100 of school age, have defective hearing. Of these, 300,000 are seriously enough affected to need eyesight help by reading a speaker's lips.

Under discussion at the conference will be an invention from South Africa, which an engineer has devised to teach deaf children to talk naturally, instead of in a dull monotone. The invention, used successfully in South African schools for the deaf, looks like a box. At one side is a vertical string of 14 light bulbs, gay colors. On the front of the box is a green blackboard. The teacher writes "Good morning" on the board, and draws a curve to show how the voice should rise and fall. The deaf child says, "Good morning," and the colored lights flash to show the pitch of his voice. Electro-magnetically operated tuning forks operate the device. The top four and bottom to lights are red, meaning danger—voice too high and shrill, or too low and gruff.

Inventor of the device is A. E. Coyne, instructor in engineering at Cape Technical college. The invention is mainly for the totally deaf child, who has no way of hearing his own speech defects.

Helping the deaf child to "hear" by feeling the vibrating bones of a speaker's head is another recent development to be discussed and demonstrated. At the Detroit day school for the deaf, where this vibration method has gained fame, all incoming classes are taught to feel speech. Children who have little or no hearing, cannot get help from mechanical devices. They can, however, learn to "hear" what a speaker says by casually placing a hand almost anywhere against the speaker's cheek or on his head.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is a very real thing. It is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need of outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

A SURREJOINDER

To the Editor: In his latest effusion in the Register, Lew Betts frankly concedes that he is "a reactionary." His admission is as superfluous as the declaration of an Islamist—who habitually turned his face toward Mecca at the call of the Muezzin—that he was a Mohammedan.

Further, Mr. Betts acknowledges that he wants to go back to the reactionary standards and conditions that prevailed prior to the New Deal. He is entirely too modest in his expression of his longings; for it is probable that if the entire truth were known, he also yearns for a return to the days of the Golden Calif.

Mr. Betts' intimation that the reactionaries, who caused the worst of all panics, could have cured it, is as naive as a suggestion that Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs would have had an exalting spiritual significance if Mae West had played Snow White. As a veiled excuse for the worst industrial and financial panic in history, directly resulting from policies Mr. Metts still advocates, he says: "Business has moved in, approximately twenty years ago." The statement has no basis of fact, and even if it were true, it would not prove the point which Mr. Betts seeks to establish, by reason of the difference in conditions and greater intensity of the last reactionary panic.

Measured by commercial bankruptcies, failed banks, distressed agriculture and unemployment, the first real industrial and financial panic we had in this country was in 1857.

The second was not twenty years later, but sixteen years later in 1873, following closely upon the demoralizing of silver, establishing the single gold standard and limiting the volume of money, when an expanding currency was needed.

The next panic occurred in 1893, and again followed, as one of its major causes, the contraction of the currency by the suspension of the coinage of silver which had been resumed in 1873. Again when an expanding currency was needed, it was shrunk instead.

Three elements tended to cure the panic of 1893: Unprecedented discoveries of gold in the Klondike, and in South Africa and Australia, which inflated the currency of the world; almost one-third of the United States was either undeveloped or only sparsely settled, and the unemployed and those who had encountered bankruptcy, moved the frontier westward; and the Spanish-American war in 1898 caused an up-turn in prices and business.

The last great panic occurred in 1929, twenty-six years after the panic of 1893. It was the direct result of nearly ten years of unrestricted conservatism and reactionarism, which would have kept any country in the world, at any period in history, either undeveloped or only sparsely settled, and the unemployed and those who had encountered bankruptcy, moved the frontier westward; and the Spanish-American war in 1898 caused an up-turn in prices and business.

The most astounding statements made by Mr. Betts are that "we have debased our currency," and do not pay private and public debts in dollars "of the weight and fineness in which the debts were contracted." It must be evident to every informed reader that Mr. Betts doesn't know what he is writing about, for the dollars with which debtors now pay their debts have nearly double the purchasing power they had when the great volume of debts in this country were incurred; and during the last year under reactionary policies, 1932-1933, a debtor was obliged to pay his debts in dollars with five times the purchasing power of the dollars he borrowed, whether measured in wheat, corn, cotton, land, or corporate stocks. Mr. Betts made no objection to that.

The period 1923 to 1926 is considered nearest to normal, in recent years. It was after war prices had gone down, and before the inflated values of the late 20's, yet ten thousand dollars will today buy nearly twice as much acreage of farms or ranches anywhere in the United States as a 1923-1926. How much "debased" are such dollars?

Apparently, Mr. Betts thinks that a currency that is not "debased" should require the debtor to pay back five times as much property as that represented by the purchasing power of the dollars when borrowed.

In fairness to Mr. Betts, it may be conceded that his assertions are not more unfounded in fact, or more fallacious in logic, more unfair in principle, than reactionary opinions generally.

Recently I visited a town which stirred me deeply. It is Sand Springs, Okla., seven miles from Tulsa. If you flashed through it in an automobile, you wouldn't know that it is different from any other town in the world. But it is different and here is the story of why it is different.

Near Stevens Point, Wisconsin, on a rented farm, lived a farmer with eight children. They were poor, as were most pioneer families in that section. Sometimes the children had to go to school barefooted in the snow. One day the farmer was plowing he was stricken and had to come to the house holding a name to steady himself. A doctor was called, but in a few days the man was dead. The name of the family was Page.

The widow moved to town and tried to support the family in various ways.

The next to the youngest child in the family was named Charles. His heart was touched by the grueling work his mother had to do. One day when he saw her straighten her back painfully after bending over a washboard doing the laundry for her big family, he felt a catch in his heart. He loved his mother and right then and there he made the selfish resolve that he would become a rich man and would spend his money to help widows and orphans.

He became a detective with the Pinkerton agency.

But he wanted to be a business man so he gave up the work and went into business. He failed time after time, but he knew that some time, some place, he would make a success.

And he did. He made millions in oil and then he did something that had never been done before in the history of the world. He bought 25,000 acres of land and established a home for widows and orphans, "The Sand Springs Home and Widows' Colony."

He found that people would adopt one orphan, but shied at adopting a family of children, so he decided to take whole families into his home.

When I visited the home, there were 200 children, and about 40 widows, in clean, attractive cottages.

In one group were eight brothers and sisters; exactly the number that had been in Charles Page's family. They sat at a table by themselves, just like any other family, and seemed happy.

Charles Page died 12 years ago, but the idea he formed that day as he watched his mother slaving at her washboard goes marching on.

And since he endowed this establishment with millions, this Christ-like service of his will continue to march on through the ages. Orphan children whose great grandfathers are yet unborn will be happier from now because Charles Page was so unselfish.

What power there is in an ideal! And anybody can have one. The thing is to stick to it until you have succeeded. If Charles Page, the poor orphan boy did, can't you?
